

Contents

Acknowledgement .....	9
-----------------------	---

Domenico Cecere and Alessandro Tuccillo

Times of emergency: Managing communication and politics in the aftermath of a disaster .....	11
--	----

Section I: Controlling the flow of news

Tamar Herzog

Early modern information: Collecting and knowing in Spain and its Empire .....	39
--	----

Fernando Bouza

Calamities, communication and public space between manuscript and print (Spain and Portugal, sixteenth and seventeenth centuries): From prayers to news .....	59
---	----

Virginia García-Acosta

Decide, apply and communicate: The colonial administration in Mexico faced with extreme weather episodes .....	79
--	----

Section II: From relaciones to periodicals

Annachiara Monaco

A linguistic perspective on the reporting of seventeenth-century natural disasters .....	113
--	-----

Vincenzo Leonardi

The rhetoric of disaster between the pre-periodical and the periodical press: The Guadalmedina flood (1661) and the case of the Gazeta Nueva .....	139
---	-----

Valentina Sferragatta

Communicative strategies in relazioni on the 1669 eruption of Mount Etna .....	171
---	-----

Enrico De Prisco

Countering the spread of contagion. Plague and the media: A close relationship, the case of Conversano (1690–1692) .....	197
--	-----

José Daniel Lozano Díaz and Antonio Manuel Berná Ortigosa A comparative analysis of earthquakes as reported in the official Spanish press (1770–9): A commercial strategy? .....	223
---	-----

Section III: The logistics of communication

Guillaume Gaudin Crisis as a measure of communicative capacity in the Spanish Empire: Letters, messengers and news informing Spain of the Sangley uprising in Manila (1603–1608) .....	255
--	-----

Paulina Machuca The 1645 Manila earthquake: The distance-time problem during emergencies .....	281
---	-----

Domenico Cecere Standing on shaky ground: The politics of disasters in early modern Peru .....	309
---	-----

Rocío Moreno-Cabanillas Mechanisms and strategies for communication in time of war during the eighteenth century .....	341
---	-----

Section IV: Putting a spin on disasters

Alessandro Tuccillo Divine intervention? The politics of interpreting disasters .....	365
---	-----

Armando Alberola Romá Disaster and personal perception: The Calabria and Messina earthquakes (1783) according to the account by the Spanish clergyman Antonio Despuig y Dameto .....	391
--	-----

Luis Alberto Arriola Díaz Viruell Between the brilliant light and the shadow of the insects: The instruction on the plague of locusts ordered by the Government of Guatemala in 1804 .....	433
--	-----

Index .....	461
-------------	-----