

Contents

---

Preface: History and Ethnography – Process Study of a Local State	ix
Ahistorical Anthropology	x
Micro and Specific History	xii
Personal Life History and Ethnography	xiv
A Panoramic View of the "Local State"	xix
 Chapter One: Folk Memory and Historical Construction: Sixty Years Ago	 1
Migration Routes of the Pumi People	3
Historical Evolution	15
Early Life	18
Chapter Two: Social Reconstruction after the Reform and Opening Up	31
Development of Production and Economic Recovery	32
Diversification of Life and the Return of Culture	46
Intervention of External Forces and Rural Adaptation	64
Chapter Three: Social Process and Network: Individual Choices	89
The Generation Born Before 1949	90
The Generation Born Between 1950s and 1960s	108
The Generation Born After the Reform and Opening Up	122

vi | CONTENTS

Chapter Four: Destiny of the Village: Road and Direction	139
Division and Integration of the Village Society	139
Cultural Identity and Intersubjectivity	147
Different Stakeholders and the Stakes	155
Postscript: Life and Text	171
Bibliography	179