Theme I: Modelling for Evaluation and Change

1 Modelling for Change: An Information Systems Perspective on Change Management Models Robert D. Macredie, Carl Sandom and Ray J. Paul	3
2 Information Systems as Powerful Forces of Change D. (Rajan) Anketell	17
3 How the Open University Uses Information Technology to Provide Distance Learning in a Competitive Market Anthony Lucas-Smith.	27
4 Information Technology as a Tool for Performance Measurement and Auditing Andrew Williamson and Alfred D. Vella	37
5 Coordinating Change Through Effective Communication at England's Newest University Hilary Duckett	41
6 The Simulation of Taiwan's Power Generation System Alfred D. Vella and Chuing-Yao Chen	49
7 Performance Measurement, Goal Setting and Feedback in Engineering Design J.S. Busby, A. Williamson and G.M. Williams	58
8 Using Information Technology to Manage the Change Process in Organisations Alfred D. Vella and Andrew Williamson	73

Theme II: Modelling for Information Systems

9	Issues in Information Systems Development Models Ray J. Paul and Robert D. Macredie	81
10	The Metaphysical Foundations of Soft and Hard Information Systems Methodologies Stephen K. Probert	86
11	Information Systems Intervention: A Total Systems View Steve Clarke and Brian Lehaney	103
12	Why Mixed Methods are Necessary to Derive Enterprise-wide Solutions D. (Rajan) Anketell	116
13	Tailorable Information Systems Add Value to Organisations in Changing Environments Nandish V. Patel	128
14	The Retail Industry and Information Technology David Shaw and Anne Leeming	139
15	Information Systems at the Superstore Interface Brian J. O'Connor	155

Theme III: Modelling for Decision Support

16	Modelling for Decision Support in Simulation Ray J. Paul and Robert D. Macredie	161
17	The Strategic Role of Expert Systems in UK Organisations Elayne W. Coakes and Kim Merchant	171
18	Workflow Benchmarking for Improved Productivity in a Large Store Group Anthony R. Ovenden	177
19	Adding Value Through Simulation by Focusing on Process Brian Lehaney	184
20	The Centre for Applied Simulation Modelling Ray J. Paul	192
21	Combining Modelling Approaches in Library Systems Analysis Jon Warwick and Shamim Warwick	206
22	The Usability of User Interfaces to Simulation Systems Jasna Kuljis	215
