

Table of Contents

|                                                                                                           |     |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Acknowledgments .....                                                                                     | 5   |
| Prologue .....                                                                                            | 9   |
| 1. Introduction .....                                                                                     | 13  |
| 2. The Language: Sexism, Misogynoir, and Race .....                                                       | 21  |
| 2.1 Fighting the Tenacity of the Myths .....                                                              | 33  |
| 2.2 Critical Race Theory, Critical Race Feminism, andCounterstorytelling .....                        | 39  |
| 2.3 The Fluidity of Intersectionality: The Specificity ofWomen-of-Color Identities .....              | 47  |
| 3. Bending the White Masculine Norm .....                                                                 | 59  |
| 3.1 Eliza and Angelica Schuyler and Rachel FaucetteLavien: Coverture, Misogyny, and Misogynoir .....  | 65  |
| 3.1.1 Empowerment through Chattel Slavery at theIntersection of Coverture .....                       | 68  |
| 3.1.2 Misogyny and Misogynoir through Colorbendingin Hamilton .....                            | 71  |
| 3.2 Sally Hemings and Maria Reynolds: A Toxic Triangle inStorytelling .....                           | 81  |
| 3.2.1 Sally's Invisibility: The Silencing of Narratives .....                                             | 85  |
| 3.2.2 Sally's Hypervisibility: The DNA Evidence .....                                                     | 87  |
| 3.2.3 Himpathy and The Myth of Thomas Jefferson .....                                                     | 95  |
| 3.2.4 The Temptress Maria Reynolds .....                                                                  | 99  |
| 4. Reimagining the Framer Myth on Broadway: FromHonest Abe to Eliza in Hamilton via 1619 ..... | 109 |

|                                                                                                        |             |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|
| 4.1 Uncovering the Legacy Part One: At the Intersection of Broadway and The 1619 Project .....  | 113         |
| 4.1.1 The Color Line from Ziegfeld to Bernstein .....                                                  | 114         |
| 4.1.2 Immigration Laws and 1619 .....                                                           | 123         |
| 4.2 Angelica: Women of Color Representation at the Intersection of Hair, Rap, Class, and History ..... | 138         |
| 4.2.1 Challenging Hair Discrimination .....                                                            | 140         |
| 4.2.2 Bending the Rap Genre .....                                                                      | 145         |
| 4.2.3 The Myth of the Romance between Angelica and Alexander .....                                     | 151         |
| 4.3 Uncovering The Legacy Part Two: At the Intersection of Whiteness and Commercialism .....           | 162         |
| 4.4 Theodosia’s Invisibility and Eliza’s Voice: A Founding Mother of Color .....                       | 172         |
| 4.4.1 Constructing an Invisible Voice of Color .....                                                   | 173         |
| 4.4.2 At the Intersection of Sexism and 18 th -Century Gossip Culture .....                 | 177         |
| 4.4.3 Republican Mothers of Color .....                                                                | 184         |
| 5. Conclusion .....                                                                                | 193     |
| Addendum: A Martinez-Inspired Counterstory about the German Hamilton .....           | 203 |
| Bibliography .....                                                                          | 219     |
| Songs .....                                                                                            | 219         |
| Sources .....                                                                                          | 220         |