

Contents

Foreword to the Series — V

Acknowledgments — IX

Ute E. Eisen, Heidrun E. Mader, and Melanie Peetz

Introduction — 1

1 Contemporary Methodological Perspectives on Emotions

Peter Lampe

Selected Avenues to Emotion-Oriented Interpretations of Ancient Religious Texts: Review and Outlook — 9

Manfred Holodynski

Grasping Religiously Connoted Emotions and Sentiments from a Co-Constructivist Emotion Paradigm — 29

Susannah Heschel

Antisemitism as Cultural Sadism: An Erothistorical Approach — 51

2 Grasping Emotions in Ancient Iconography

Karen Sonik

Emotions and Ancient Near Eastern Art: Issues and Methods — 79

Petra von Gemünden

Emotions and Visual Arts, with a Focus on Greco-Roman Artefacts: A Response to K. Sonik — 99

3 Grasping Emotions in Religious Authorative Texts of Antiquity

Deena Grant

Emotion Scripts in the Hebrew Bible: A Case of Hate — 127

Melanie Peetz

Grasping Emotions in Psalm 130: Hermeneutics, Methods, and Issues — 143

Juliane Eckstein

Prophetic Shockvertising: Methods and Ethics of Shock Effects in Amos 3, Isaiah 20, and Ezekiel 23 — 177

Nicole Oesterreich

„Und sie fürchteten sich sehr ...“: Kognitionswissenschaftliche Erkenntnisse zur Angst und deren Anwendung auf neutestamentliche Texte — 207

Karen Bauer and Feras Hamza

Qur’anic Plot and the Practice of Emotional Virtue, with the Example of Al-A’rāf (Q. 7) — 229

Todd Lawson

Divine Attributes and Human Emotions: Joseph’s Sentimental Education in Sura 12 of the Qur’an — 253

4 Grasping Emotions from Philosophical and Systematic-Theological Perspectives

Béatrice Lienemann

Kontrollieren oder Kultivieren der Emotionen? Aristoteles’ Konzeption der Emotionen — 273

Roderich Barth

Sprache und Gefühl: Überlegungen zur theologischen Hermeneutik — 289

Alexander Maßmann

Mimesis, Gefühl und Ratio: Anthropologische Mehrdimensionalität und religiöse Tradition: Eine Response zu R. Barth — 303

List of Authors — 313