

Contents

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |     |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Acknowledgments .....                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | 7   |
| Editors .....                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | 9   |
| 1 Preface: Drug normalisation is reflexiveShane Blackman .....                                                                                                                                                                       | 11  |
| 2 Introduction: Normalised drug using landscapes across EuropeJames Morgan, Thomas Friis Søgaard &amp; Alfred Uhl .....                                                                                                              | 16  |
| 3 Navigating norms and drug use: Normalisation and neutralisationas converging perspectivesJames Morgan &amp; Trevor Bennett .....                                                                                               | 25  |
| 4 Exploring the normalisation of image and performance enhancingdrugs (IPEDs) in British gyms and its connectivity with social mediaLuke A. Turnock &amp; Nick Gibbs .....                                                       | 40  |
| 5 ‘That’s how drug scene was back in the days’ – On the temporaryde-normalisation of harm reduction measures and public life forpeople who use drugs heavily during the COVID-19 pandemicBernd Werse &amp; Luise Klaus ..... | 60  |
| 6 The normalisation of illicit drug use admissions amongBritish politicians: A narrative perspectiveLiviu Alexandrescu .....                                                                                                     | 76  |
| 7 Revisiting the normalisation thesis in the Polish context overthe past 20 yearsGreg Los, Maria Plucinska &amp; Artur Malczewski .....                                                                                          | 93  |
| 8 Different-paced normalisation: Cannabis social worlds innon-liberalised contextsMichał Wanke .....                                                                                                                             | 110 |

Contents

---

9 Normalised drug use heterotopias in the 21st century
Kostas Skliamis ..... 127

10 Policy normalisation of drug use – opportunity or cultural discomfort?
Alfred Springer ..... 141

Contributors ..... 161