

The entire cover is framed by a dense, hand-drawn illustration of various forest elements. At the top, there are green leaves, a brown catkin, and small white flowers. The right side features red berries, a yellow moth with black spots, and green leaves. The bottom is filled with a variety of elements including blueberries, a red raspberry, a pink flower, a white flower, a bee, a white mushroom, acorns, and different types of leaves. The background is a solid green color.
