

Preface 9

VICKY MACLEROY, CLAIRE HACKNEY & SUSI
SAHMLAND

How can picturebooks and stories transform the way children learn languages and navigate digital spaces in the primary classroom? 20

GILA A. SCHAUER

L2 Pragmatics and CLIL in Primary EFL Education: Investigating the potential of graphic novels and picturebooks.....60

GRIT BERGNER

Teachers' beliefs about the selection of picturebooks in English and social studies (science teaching)90

TOMÁŠ KOS

Kamishibai: Diving into the culture of the rising sun and contemplating the potential for primary school CLIL
.....113

ANNE SCHRADER

The Tiny Seed – Language learning in the school garden
.....136

CHARLOTT FALKENHAGEN

“It rings and rattles, growls and howls” – A musical perspective on picturebooks in primary CLIL
.....151

MARIANNE BROOKS

Child-centred storytelling with children with Autistic Spectrum Disorder177

VANESSA WILDENAUER

Intercultural professionalization of primary English teacher trainees through the use of storybooks about refugee experiences
.....192

HEIKE HAGELGANS, JAQUELINE SIMON & SARAH BAUMANN

Balancing Act – Exploring the concept of direct comparison of masses in mathematics with CLIL.....214

GABRIELE NOPPENY

“Close your eyes and imagine...” – Fantasy journeys in the CLIL music classroom229

GRIT BERGNER

Ice Boy (David Ezra Stein) – A CLIL science unit in class.....243