

Contents

Author's foreword to the first edition	7
Foreword to the second edition	11
Introduction	13
All kinds of human traditions	17
The cosmic catastrophe	19
Part 1: The flood legends of the peoples of the entire world.....	25
Great Floods reported from North Eurasia	25
The Uralian (Finno-Ugric) family of peoples	26
Voguls (Mansi) – Ostyaks (Chanti) – Votyaks (Udmurt) – Mordvinians (Moksha and Ersä) – Cheremis (Mari) – Finns (Suomalainen) – Karelians (Karyalainen) – Lapps (Sápmi) – Estonians (Maamees) – Hungarians (Ma- gyars) – Samoyeds (Nenets, Enets, Nganasans, Selkups)
The Altaic family of peoples	43
Altaians – Tatars – Yakuts (Soyots, Tuwinians, Urianchaians) – Tungus (Evenks, Evens, Dolganes, Lamuts) – Mongols – Buryats – Kalmucks
The Palaeo-Siberian peoples	50
Kets (Yeniseians) – Chukchi (Ankalyn, Chau-chou) – Koryaks (Nimilin) – Gilyaks (Niwches) – Goldens (Nanai) – Kamchadals (Itelmens) – Yukhagirs (Odul, Wadul) – Manchus – Ainu – Aleuts – Eskimo (Inuit)
The flood reports of the neighbour peoples	64
Iranians – Indians – Drawida – Gipsies (Sinti, Roma) – Greeks – Romans – Celts – Germans (Teutons) – Lithuanians – Slavs – Basques (Eskaldunak)
Flood legends of some peoples living in greater distance	83
The Fertile Crescent – The Far East – Central America – Black Africa

Part 2: Arguments for the diluvian impact	110
The youngest analogy with the diluvian impact.....	110
Geological and climatic consequences of the diluvian impact.....	114
Chronology of the diluvian impact – Are there any terrestrial impact sites contemporary with the diluvian comet? – Geologic and climatic consequences – Suggestions for different timing of the flood disaster
Environmental pollution and mass extinction and its mythological inter- pretation	135
Where have the eye-witnesses of the Deluge actually been ?	144
Linguistic remains of the »Deluge«, collective memory of mankind	151
Part 3: Conclusions.....	161
Part 4: Presence and future.....	170
The NASA »Spacewatch program« and »Spaceguard project« and the astro- nomic basis
Bibliography.....	183
Index.....	266