

Contents

Preface.....	9
Introduction: The Idea of Satire and the Rhetoric of Topics.....	15
Part I. Satire and Self-Knowledge: A Philosophical Consideration
1. Aristophanes, “The Thinkery”.....	27
2. Lucian, “Philosophies for Sale”.....	31
3. Desiderius Erasmus, “True Prudence”.....	37
4. François Rabelais, “How Panurge Put to a Non-Plus the Englishman Who Argued by Signs”.....	41
5. Jonathan Swift, “The Grand Academy of Lagado”.....	47
6. Voltaire, “The Best of All Possible Worlds”.....	53
7. James Joyce, “by the light of philophosy, (and may she never folsage us!)”.....	59
Part II. Memory, Topics, and Self-Knowledge: A Philosophical Retrospect
8. Hesiod, Mnemosyne.....	67
9. Plato, The Block of Wax.....	73
10. Aristotle, Anamnēsis.....	79
11. Giulio Camillo, The Theater.....	85
12. Giambattista Vico, Fantasia.....	91
13. G. W. F. Hegel, Er-Innerung.....	97
14. James Joyce, “mememormee!”.....	103
Epilogue.....	109
Notes.....	113
Index.....	119