

Contents

Acknowledgements	IX
Introduction: German Pietism and Music	1
1 Philipp Jakob Spener (1635–1705)	4
2 Johann Anastasius Freylinghausen (1670–1739)	6
Chapter One: “Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together”: August Hermann Francke (1663–1727) on Worship and Music	13
1 Internal vs. External Worship	15
2 Christ as the Kernel of Scripture	16
3 Music in the Old Testament	19
4 Music as Harmony	25
5 The Song of Glory	27
6 The Joy of Salvation	30
7 Summary	32
Chapter Two: “Whatever you do, do everything for the glory of God”: Music in the Bible Commentaries of Joachim Lange (1670–1744)	35
1 The Bible as Prophecy	36
2 Mosaic Light and Justice	38
3 Ceremonies of the Old Testament	41
4 The Historical Books	42
5 Prophetic Music	44
6 The Psalms	47
7 The Gospels	52
8 The Epistles	53
9 Music in the Book of Revelation	57
10 Excursus on Music and Morality	60
11 Summary	65

Chapter Three: A Heart Tuned for Praise:

Johann Jakob Rambach (1693–1735) as Preacher, Professor, and Poet 67

- 1 Old Testament Passages on Music 69
- 2 New Testament 76
- 3 On the Value of Hymns 81
- 4 Affections 83
- 5 Poetry and Style 85
- 6 Selected Themes in Rambach's Geistliche Poesien 90
 - 6.1 The Joy of Heartfelt Praise 91
 - 6.2 The Struggle between Good and Evil 93
 - 6.3 The Word Incarnate and the Troubled Soul 94
 - 6.4 The Majesty of God 97
- 7 Summary 99

Chapter Four: Old and New Wine Blended: A Period of Transition 101

- 1 Siegmund Jakob Baumgarten (1706–1757) 101
- 2 Johann Salomo Semler (1725–1791) 113
- 3 Summary 120

Chapter Five: Elevating Religion through Poetry and Music:

August Hermann Niemeyer (1754–1828), Literary Theologian 121

- 1 On the Interpretation of the Bible 121
- 2 Genesis: On the Origin of Music 125
- 3 Job 126
- 4 David 128
- 5 Prophecy 134
- 6 The Book of Revelation 135
- 7 Poetry, Music, and Religion 137
- 8 Summary 144

Chapter Six: Love, Trust, Constancy, and Humanity in Biblical Characters:

Niemeyer's Oratorios, or Religious Musical Dramas 145

- 1 Abraham auf Moria (1776) 147
 - 1.1 Abraham and Sarah 147
 - 1.2 Isaac 150
 - 1.3 Literary Themes 152

2	Lazarus (1778)	154
2.1	Mary and Martha	155
2.2	Jemina	158
2.3	Simon the Sadducee	159
2.4	Nathanael	160
2.5	Lazarus	161
3	Thirza und ihre Söhne (1779)	163
3.1	The Story and its Themes	163
3.2	Dramatic Exposition	165
3.3	Chryses	165
3.4	Joel	167
3.5	Selima	167
3.6	Thirza	168
4	Mehala (1781)	169
4.1	Interpreting the Story	170
4.2	Developing the Drama	172
5	Die Feyer des Todes Jesu (1783)	175
6	Pietism and Niemeyer's Musical Views	178
7	Summary	180
	Postscript: Into the Nineteenth Century	181
	Summary	185
	Bibliography	189
	Primary Sources	189
	Secondary Sources	193
	Index of Names	201
	Index of Biblical References	205