

Table of Contents

Introduction	11
I. Why Europe	19
1. Europe in the world of yesteryear	19
1.1 Europe's diversity and limits	19
1.2 On the way to integration: Europe between individual interests and community	27
1.3 The Conference on Security and Cooperation in Europe	39
1.4 Europe between enlargement and deepening	41
1.5 Overcoming the divide: the creation of the new Europe	43
1.5.1 Europe on the way to increased commonality	43
1.5.2 The Maastricht Treaty on European Union	45
1.5.3 The Treaty reforms of Amsterdam and Nice	49
1.6 The unification of the continent	50
2. Europe in the world of today	60
2.1 From a common history to a common present	60
2.2 The Common Europe	62
2.2.1 Borderless Europe - the European single market	62
2.2.2 Schengen: a European success	67
2.2.3 Protection of citizens and their freedoms	69
2.3 Union trade policy	71
2.3.1 A strong Europe through joint action	71
2.3.2 The significance of the EU in the world economy	72
2.3.3 International frameworks and European trade policy	74
2.4 The Common Agricultural Policy - success through change	77
2.5 European Union regional policy	80
2.6 Demographic development and migration	82
2.7 The European Economic and Monetary Union	87

2.8	European energy policy	97
2.9	The Global Europe	103
2.9.1	The European Union in the world	103
2.9.2	The European Union and its neighbours	112
2.9.3	Security and stability in the Western Balkans	113
2.9.4	Turkey on the path to Europe	115
2.9.5	The European Neighbourhood Policy	117
2.10	A multilayered new world - the Lisbon Treaty	125
3.	Europe in the world of tomorrow	133
3.1	From the common present jointly into the future	133
3.2	Global trends	134
3.3	The vulnerability of our planet	137
3.4	Aspects of global powers	141
3.4.1	China	141
3.4.2	India	149
3.4.3	Japan	152
3.4.4	The United States of America	155
3.4.5	Brazil	160
3.4.6	Russia	163
3.5	A changed world - a common Europe	167
II.	Which Europe	175
1.	The European Union - a common space for liberty and democracy	175
2.	The European Union - the driving force for prosperity and stability on the continent	179
2.1	The Europe 2020 strategy	182
2.2	Knowledge and innovation - a European knowledge society	185

3. The European Union - the path to sustainable development	188
3.1 Sustainability - the future is here today	188
3.2 The EU Sustainable Development Strategy	189
3.3 Environmentally friendly behaviour	191
4. The European Union - a global force in a multipolar world	195
4.1 Think globally - act European	195
4.2 Security and defence - the European security model	198
5. The European Union - a future in joint responsibility	202
5.1 Institutional balance	203
5.2 Decentralised structures - the subsidiarity principle	208
5.3 Joint political decision-making	211
Bibliography	216
The author	223
The publishers	225