
Contents

1	Introduction	1
2	Methods	7
2.1	Dimensions of the Study	7
2.2	Qualitative Country Case Studies	8
2.3	Document Analysis and Quantitative Survey	12
3	Results: Before Studying in Germany	15
3.1	Selection of Scholarship Holders	15
3.2	Study and Profession in the Country of Origin	18
3.3	Reasons for Studying in Germany	24
3.3.1	Study Programmes and Research Conditions in Germany	25
3.3.2	Existing Contacts with Germany	28
3.3.3	Personal Interest in Germany	31
3.3.4	Other Reasons	33
3.4	Application to KAAD	34
3.5	Language Course in the Country of Origin	39
4	Results: During the Studies	41
4.1	Language Course in Germany	41
4.2	Studies in Germany	43
4.3	Activities Alongside Studies	48
4.3.1	Professional Activities	48
4.3.2	Voluntary Activities	49
4.4	Challenges in Study and Everyday Life	51
4.5	Acquiring Skills in Germany	59

5	Results: After Graduation	65
5.1	Stabilization and Differentiation of the Health System in Israel/Palestine	66
5.2	Innovation and Networking in the Technology Sector in Indonesia.	76
5.3	Development of Environmental Protection and Agriculture in Ghana	83
5.4	Promoting and Consolidating the Peace Process in Colombia.	93
5.5	Transformation of the Legal System in Georgia.	103
5.6	General Aspects.	113
5.6.1	Contributions to the Scientific Systems	113
5.6.2	Challenges in the Re-integration Process.	115
5.6.3	Changed View of the World	120
6	Discussion and Conclusion.	123
6.1	Functions of International Student Migration in Development Cooperation	123
6.2	Conclusions for the Design of Scholarship Programmes in a Development Perspective.	125
6.3	Conclusions for Necessary Reforms of the Political Framework of International Migration of Students	128
	Appendix	131
	References	145