

Table of Contents

Acknowledgments	7
The Eastern Roman Empire under the Severans – old Connections, new Beginnings? An introduction	9
Julia Hoffmann-Salz, Matthäus Heil, Holger Wienholz
Die syrische Kaiserin. Ein Schlagwort und seine Abgründe	27
Matthäus Heil
Emesa and Arca as imperial patriae under the Severans	47
Julia Hoffmann-Salz
The Relations between the Severan Emperors and the Cities of Phoenicia: Evidence for Imperial Privileges and Retribution	83
Ziad Sawaya
Severische Bauprojekte bei Iohannes Malalas	115
Holger Wienholz
Palmyra unter den Severern	127
Udo Hartmann
How to police Rome's desert frontier (under Severan rule) – an alternative narration of Tadmur-Palmyra's desert police	163
Ann-Christine Sander
Les Sévères en Phrygie Parorée et en Pisidie	181
Hadrien Bru
Nothing New in the East? The Severan Emperors and the Provincial Elite in the Eastern Roman Empire	205
Babett Edelmann-Singer

In the footsteps of the past – the Severans and the Tomb of Hannibal . . .	225
Simon Lentzsch
The Severan Augustae as Mistresses of the World	239
Riccardo Bertolazzi
The Severan Dynasty and Greece: New Beginnings, Old Connections	255
Giorgos Mitropoulos
Armenien und der Südkaukasus in severischer Zeit – historiographische Tradition und politische Bedeutung	279
Frank Schleicher
Trdat, king of Greater Armenia in the early third century	309
Giusto Traina
Septimius Severus at Hatra Old Tactics and New Beginnings	317
Lucinda Dirven
West Meets East? Assessing Eastern Influences in the Art and Architecture of Severan Rome	337
Susann S. Lusnia
Die Severer und das Militär im Spiegel der diplomata militaria	351
Werner Eck
Orbis mutans A Sort of Severan Research Interim Epilogue	365
Kostas Buraselis	