

Contents

Abbreviations	IX
Bibliography	XI
Introduction	1
 Part I Patents: Rationale and Implications for the Analysis of Territorial Restrictions	 3
 Chapter 1 Stimulation of Invention and Innovation through a Market Mechanism	 3
 A. Purpose of the Patent System	 3
1. Promotion of Invention	3
2. Encouragement of Innovation	4
 B. Nature of the Patent Device	 8
1. Restrictive Nature of Patents: a Cost	8
2. Patents: a Market Mechanism	9
3. The “Reasonable Reward” Conception	12
4. Monopolistic or Reasonable Reward – Significance for the EEC	16
 C. Market Assessment of the Patentee’s Reward	 17
1. Patentee’s Reward under Uniform Pricing	17
a) Patentee Directly Working the Invention	17
i) New product	18
ii) Cost-reducing invention	18
b) Patentee Licensing or Assigning the Invention	19
i) Potential licensees are in competition	19
aa) Patentee licenses many competing licensees	19
bb) Patentee licenses a single firm	22
cc) Reasons why a patentee may wish to license a single firm instead of several competing firms	24
ii) Patentee faces a single potential licensee	26
aa) Drastic cost-reducing invention	26
bb) Non-drastic cost-reducing invention	27
cc) New product	27

2. Patentee's Reward and Discrimination	28
a) Consistency with Patent Policy	28
b) Profitability of Territorial Discrimination	30
c) Territorial Discrimination and Competition	32
i) Injury to competitors	32
ii) Prevention of resales	33
3. Patentee's Reward and Value of Patented Inventions	35
a) Value of Patented Inventions	36
b) Cases where the Patentee's Reward May Exceed the Social Value of the Patent	38
 Chapter 2 Domestic Trade and Territorial Licenses	41
A. The Issue	41
B. Possible Purposes of Territorial Limitations in Domestic Licenses	44
1. Absence of Natural Barriers Sufficient to Prevent Cross-Sales Between Territories	44
a) Only One Firm per Territory is Licensed	45
i) Cost argument?	45
ii) Territorial discrimination	45
iii) Collusion	46
iv) Market power of the territorial licensees	49
v) Development argument	50
b) Several Competing Firms are Licensed in Each Territory	53
2. Existence of Natural Barriers	54
C. Rules Suggested	55
1. Unlawfulness of Territorial Sales Restrictions in Licensing Agreements	55
2. Territorial Manufacturing Restrictions: a Case by Case Approach	57
 Chapter 3 International Trade and Restrictions Imposed by a Patentee on Other Parties' Freedom to Import and Export	59
A. Patent and Import Restrictions	59
1. Prevention of Importation as a Matter of Patent Law	59
a) The Issue	59
b) Absence of Patent Protection Abroad	62

c) Existence of a Parallel Patent Abroad	64
i) Both patents are owned by the same person who directly exploits them	65
aa) Territorial discrimination	65
bb) Cost argument and domestic manufacturing requirement	67
cc) Patentees are not allowed to maximize their returns in the country of exportation	68
dd) Rules suggested	69
ii) One or both patents have been licensed or assigned	69
aa) The permissible scope of import restrictions should not be greater than in the case where both patents are directly worked by their original owner	70
bb) The permissible scope of import restrictions should be more narrow than in the case where both patents are directly worked by their original owner	74
cc) Rules suggested	75
iii) Domestic and foreign patents have an independent origin	76
2. Prevention of Imports by Means of Explicit Contractual Restrictions Imposed Abroad	76
B. Patent and Export Restrictions	77
 Part II Territorial Restrictions and EEC Law: An Appraisal	81
Chapter 4 Import Restrictions	81
A. Patents and Import Restrictions in Intra-Community Trade	81
1. Methods to Establish the Free Movement of Goods Between Member States	81
2. The Centrafarm Case	83
a) The Facts and the Ruling	83
b) The Court of Justice's Reasoning	84
c) Implications and Appraisal of Centrafarm	86
i) Parallel patents	86
aa) Same owner	86
bb) Different owners	89
ii) Absence of patent protection in the country of exportation	91
aa) Goods put on the market by the domestic patentee or with his consent	91
bb) Goods put on the market by an unrelated party	92

3. The Luxembourg Convention	94
a) Community Patent Law: Unitary Character and Exceptions	94
b) Community Patent Law and the Free Movement of Goods Between Member States	97
i) Exhaustion of the rights attached to a Community patent	97
ii) Exhaustion of the rights attached to national patents	101
c) The Luxembourg Convention after Centrafarm	102
 B. Patents and Import Restrictions in the Community's External Trade	102
1. The EEC Treaty	102
2. The Luxembourg Convention	104
 Chapter 5 Territorial Licenses	107
A. Territorial Licenses and Internal Community Trade	107
1. Territorial Licenses and Article 85 of the EEC Treaty	107
a) The Commission's Decisions	107
b) The Commission's Reasoning	110
c) Appraisal	112
i) Patent: merely a manufacturing privilege?	112
ii) Exclusive license: an illegitimate restraint of trade?	112
iii) The prohibition against territorial sales restrictions	114
iv) Exemption and the development argument	115
2. Territorial Licenses and the Luxembourg Convention	115
 B. Territorial Licenses and the Community's External Trade	118
1. The Nagoya Case	118
2. The Commission's Reasoning	119
3. Appraisal	119
 Conclusion	121
 Appendix: Price Discrimination	123
 Subject Index	129