

Contents

1. Physiological Reviews

1.1 Measurement Techniques

Fluid responsiveness in mechanically ventilated patients: a review of indices used in intensive care ..... 3

KARIM BENDJELID, JACQUES-A. ROMAND

Different techniques to measure intra-abdominal pressure (IAP): time for a critical re-appraisal ..... 13

MANU L. N. G. MALBRAIN

Tissue capnometry: does the answer lie under the tongue? ..... 29

ALEXANDRE TOLEDO MACIEL, JACQUES CRETEUR, JEAN-LOUIS VINCENT

Noninvasive monitoring of peripheral perfusion ..... 39

ALEXANDRE LIMA, JAN BAKKER

Ultrasonographic examination of the venae cavae ..... 51

FRANÇOIS JARDIN, ANTOINE VIEILLARD-BARON

Passive leg raising ..... 55

XAVIER MONNET, JEAN-LOUIS TEBOUL

1.2 Physiological Processes

Sleep in the intensive care unit ..... 61

SAIRAM PARTHASARATHY, MARTIN J. TOBIN

Magnesium in critical illness: metabolism, assessment, and treatment ..... 71

J. LUIS NORONHA, GEORGE M. MATUSCHAK

Pulmonary endothelium in acute lung injury: from basic science to the critically ill ..... 85

S. E. ORFANOS, I. MAVROMMATI, I. KOROVESI, C. ROUSSOS

Pulmonary and cardiac sequelae of subarachnoid haemorrhage: time for active management? ..... 99

C. S. A. MACMILLAN, I. S. GRANT, P. J. D. ANDREWS

Permissive hypercapnia — role in protective lung ventilatory strategies ..... 111

JOHN G. LAFFEY, DONALL O'CROININ, PAUL MCLOUGHLIN, BRIAN P. KAVANAGH

Right ventricular function and positive pressure ventilation in clinical practice: from hemodynamic subsets to respirator settings ..... 121

FRANÇOIS JARDIN, ANTOINE VIEILLARD-BARON

Acute right ventricular failure—from pathophysiology to new treatments ..... 131

ALEXANDRE MEBAZAA, PETER KARPATI, ESTELLE RENAUD, LARS ALGOTSSON

Red blood cell rheology in sepsis ..... 143

M. PIAGNERELLI, K. ZOUAOU BOUDJELTIA, M. VANHAEVERBEEK, J.-L. VINCENT

Stress-hyperglycemia, insulin and immunomodulation in sepsis ..... 153

PAUL E. MARIK, MURUGAN RAGHAVAN

Hypothalamic-pituitary dysfunction in critically ill patients with traumatic and nontraumatic brain injury ..... 163

IOANNA DIMOPOULOU, STYLIANOS TSAGARAKIS

Matching total body oxygen consumption and delivery: a crucial objective? ..... 173

PIERRE SQUARA

Normalizing physiological variables in acute illness: five reasons for caution ..... 183

BRIAN P. KAVANAGH, L. JOANNE MEYER

Interpretation of the echocardiographic pressure gradient across a pulmonary artery band in the setting of a univentricular heart ..... 191

SHANE M. TIBBY, ANDREW DURWARD

|                                                                                                                                                  |     |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Ventilator-induced diaphragm dysfunction: the clinical relevance of animal models . . . . .                                               | 197 |
| THEODOROS VASSILAKOPOULOS                                                                                                                        |     |
| Understanding organ dysfunction in hemophagocytic lymphohistiocytosis . . . . .                                                           | 207 |
| CAROLINE CRÉPUT, LIONEL GALICIER, SOPHIE BUYSE, ELIE AZOULAY                                                                                     |     |
| What is normal intra-abdominal pressure and how is it affected by positioning, body mass and positive end-expiratory pressure? . . . . .  | 219 |
| B. L. DE KEULENAER, J. J. DE WAELE, B. POWELL, M. L. N. G. MALBRAIN                                                                              |     |
| Determinants of regional ventilation and blood flow in the lung . . . . .                                                                 | 227 |
| ROBB W. GLENNY                                                                                                                                   |     |
| The endothelium: physiological functions and role in microcirculatory failure during severe sepsis . . . . .                              | 237 |
| H. AIT-OUFELLA, E. MAURY, S. LEHOUX, B. GUIDET, G. OFFENSTADT                                                                                    |     |
| Vascular hyporesponsiveness to vasopressors in septic shock: from bench to bedside . . . . .                                              | 251 |
| B. LEVY, S. COLLIN, N. SENNOUN, N. DUCROCQ, A. KIMMOUN, P. ASFAR, P. PEREZ, F. MEZIANI                                                           |     |
| Monitoring the microcirculation in the critically ill patient: current methods and future approaches . . . . .                            | 263 |
| DANIEL DE BACKER, GUSTAVO OSPINA-TASCON, DIAMANTINO SALGADO, RAPHAËL FAVORY, JACQUES CRETEUR, JEAN-LOUIS VINCENT                                 |     |
| The role of vasoactive agents in the resuscitation of microvascular perfusion and tissue oxygenation in critically ill patients . . . . . | 277 |
| E. CHRISTIAAN BOERMA, CAN INCE                                                                                                                   |     |
| Interpretation of blood pressure signal: physiological bases, clinical relevance, and objectives during shock states . . . . .            | 293 |
| J.-F. AUGUSTO, J.-L. TEBOUL, P. RADERMACHER, P. ASFAR                                                                                            |     |
| Deadspace ventilation: a waste of breath! . . . . .                                                                                       | 303 |
| PRATIK SINHA, OLIVER FLOWER, NEIL SONI                                                                                                           |     |

2. Editorials

|                                                                                                                                                                     |     |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| The role of the right ventricle in determining cardiac output in the critically ill . . . . .                                                                | 317 |
| M. R. PINSKY                                                                                                                                                        |     |
| Beyond global oxygen supply-demand relations: in search of measures of dysoxia . . . . .                                                                     | 319 |
| M. R. PINSKY                                                                                                                                                        |     |
| Breathing as exercise: The cardiovascular response to weaning from mechanical ventilation . . . . .                                                          | 323 |
| MICHAEL R. PINSKY                                                                                                                                                   |     |
| Variability of splanchnic blood flow measurements in patients with sepsis – physiology, pathophysiology or measurement errors? . . . . .                     | 327 |
| S. M. JAKOB, J. TAKALA                                                                                                                                              |     |
| Functional hemodynamic monitoring . . . . .                                                                                                                  | 331 |
| MICHAEL R. PINSKY                                                                                                                                                   |     |
| Non-invasive ventilation in acute exacerbations of chronic obstructive pulmonary disease: a new gold standard? . . . . .                                     | 335 |
| M.W. ELLIOTT                                                                                                                                                        |     |
| The adrenergic coin: perfusion and metabolism . . . . .                                                                                                      | 339 |
| KARL TRÄGER, PETER RADERMACHER, XAVIER LEVERVE                                                                                                                      |     |
| Death by parenteral nutrition . . . . .                                                                                                                      | 343 |
| PAUL E. MARIK, MICHAEL R. PINSKY                                                                                                                                    |     |
| Ventilator-induced lung injury, cytokines, PEEP, and mortality: implications for practice and for clinical trials . . . . .                                  | 347 |
| ARTHUR S. SLUTSKY, YUMIKO IMAI                                                                                                                                      |     |
| Helium in the treatment of respiratory failure: why not a standard? . . . . .                                                                                | 351 |
| ENRICO CALZIA, PETER RADERMACHER                                                                                                                                    |     |
| Is parenteral nutrition guilty? . . . . .                                                                                                                    | 355 |
| PETER VARGA, RICHARD GRIFFITHS, RENÉ CHIOLERO, GÉRARD NITENBERG, XAVIER LEVERVE, MAREK PERTKIEWICZ, ERICH ROTH, JAN WERNERMAN, CLAUDE PICHARD, JEAN-CHARLES PREISER |     |

|                                                                                                                     |     |                                                                                                                                      |     |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Using ventilation-induced aortic pressure and flow variation to diagnose preload responsiveness . . . . .    | 359 | Can one predict fluid responsiveness in spontaneously breathing patients? . . . . .                                           | 385 |
| MICHAEL R. PINSKY                                                                                                   |     | DANIEL DE BACKER, MICHAEL R. PINSKY                                                                                                  |     |
| Evaluation of left ventricular performance: an insolvable problem in human beings? The Graal quest . . . . . | 363 | The “open lung” compromise . . . . .                                                                                          | 389 |
| ALAIN NITENBERG                                                                                                     |     | JOHN J. MARINI                                                                                                                       |     |
| Evaluation of fluid responsiveness in ventilated septic patients: back to venous return . . . . .            | 367 | Acute respiratory failure: back to the roots! . . . . .                                                                       | 393 |
| PHILIPPE VIGNON                                                                                                     |     | CHRISTIAN MUELLER                                                                                                                    |     |
| Mask ventilation and cardiogenic pulmonary edema: “another brick in the wall” . . . . .                      | 371 | Is right ventricular function the one that matters in ARDS patients? Definitely yes . . . . .                                 | 397 |
| SANGEETA MEHTA, STEFANO NAVA                                                                                        |     | ANTOINE VIEILLARD-BARON                                                                                                              |     |
| Does high tidal volume generate ALI/ARDS in healthy lungs? . . . . .                                         | 375 | Strong ion gap and outcome after cardiac arrest: another nail in the coffin of traditional acid–base quantification . . . . . | 401 |
| CHIARA BONETTO, PIERPAOLO TERRAGNI, V. MARCO RANIERI                                                                |     | PATRICK M. HONORE, OLIVIER JOANNES-BOYAU, WILLEM BOER                                                                                |     |
| Weaning failure from cardiovascular origin . . . . .                                                         | 379 | Prone positioning for ARDS: defining the target . . . . .                                                                     | 405 |
| CHRISTIAN RICHARD, JEAN-LOUIS TEBOUL                                                                                |     | JOHN J. MARINI                                                                                                                       |     |
| The hidden pulmonary dysfunction in acute lung injury . . . . .                                              | 383 | Index . . . . .                                                                                                               | 409 |
| GÖRAN HEDENSTIERNA                                                                                                  |     |                                                                                                                                      |     |