Foreword	11
Introduction	13
1 Introduction to Cognitive Linguistics	18
1.1 The Basics of Cognitive Linguistics	19
1.1.1 The Development of Cognitive Linguistics	20
1.1.2 Categorization: How Can We Construct Meaning?.....	22
1.1.3 Metaphors: How Do We Understand Abstract Concepts?.....	25
1.1.4 Grammar in Cognitive Linguistics: The Role of Grammar in Meaning	27
1.1.5 Linguistic Diversity, Relativity, and Cognitive Linguistics: Language and Thought.....	29
1.1.6 How Do Children Learn Language(s)?	30
1.1.7 Multimodality: Gestures Are Part of Language	31
1.1.8 Outline	31
1.1.9 Summary	32
1.1.10 Review Questions	32
1.2 Representing Meaning	34
1.2.1 Predication and Visual Perception	35
1.2.2 Image Schemas	39
1.2.3 The Systematicity of Non-Literal Language.....	43
1.2.4 Summary	46
1.2.5 Review Questions	47
1.3 Theoretical Cornerstones in Cognitive Linguistics.....	48
1.3.1 Language Must Be Understood through the Function It Serves.....	49
1.3.2 Language Is Based in Mental Conceptualization.....	50
1.3.3 Language Depends on the Embodied Mind.....	53
1.3.4 How Is Embodied Cognition Related to Language?.....	55

1.3.5	Empirical Studies on the Idea of Embodiment	57
1.3.6	Summary	60
1.3.7	Review Questions	60
2	Morphology.....	62
2.1	Semantics and Word Formation.....	63
2.1.1	What Does Semantics Mean and What Is Its Connection to Lexicology?	63
2.1.2	What Is a Word?	68
2.1.3	Lexical and Contextual Word Meaning: What Is in a Word?.....	69
2.1.4	Word Formation.....	70
2.1.5	Word Elements.....	73
2.1.6	Summary	76
2.1.7	Review Questions	76
2.2	Compounding and Derivation	77
2.2.1	Word Formation.....	78
2.2.2	The Most Important Word Formation Processes: An Overview.....	79
2.2.3	Central Word Formation Processes in the German Language: Compounding and Derivation.....	90
2.2.4	Summary	93
2.2.5	Review Questions	94
3	Linguistic Imagery	95
3.1	Linguistic Imagery and the Conceptual Metaphor.....	96
3.1.1	The Basics: Types of Imagery-Based Languages	97
3.1.2	Metaphor as a Mechanism of Conceptualization.....	107
3.1.3	Summary	109
3.1.4	Review Questions	110
3.2	Mental Imagery in Cognition: Conceptual Metaphor, Embodiment, and Prototype Semantics	112
3.2.1	Structure and Traits of Conceptual Metaphors	112

3.2.2	Embodiment.....	119
3.2.3	Conceptual Metaphorization and Embodiment.....	121
3.2.4	Prototype Semantics.....	123
3.2.5	Summary	128
3.2.6	Review Questions	129
3.3	Mental Imagery in Knowledge Acquisition: Mental Models.....	130
3.3.1	The Formation of Mental Models	130
3.3.2	The Concept of the Mental Model	131
3.3.3	Learning-Dependent Progression of Mental Models	133
3.3.4	Mental Models and Imagery-Based Learning Tools.....	134
3.3.5	Existing Misconceptions in Learners and the Conceptual Conflict	136
3.3.6	Diagnosing Mental Models	138
3.3.7	Summary	139
3.3.8	Review Questions	140
4	Grammar	141
4.1	Approaches to Grammar	142
4.1.1	The Term ‘Grammar’	142
4.1.2	The Perspective of Ferdinand de Saussure	144
4.1.3	Chomsky’s Understanding of Grammar	146
4.1.4	Functional Grammar	148
4.1.5	Construction Grammar.....	150
4.1.6	Summary	152
4.1.7	Review Questions	153
4.2	Construction Grammar – Basic Ideas	154
4.2.1	Introduction to Construction Grammar.....	155
4.2.2	The Concept of Construction	156
4.2.3	Types of Constructions	158
4.2.4	Construction Grammar Approaches.....	162
4.2.5	Summary	165
4.2.6	Review Questions	166

4.3 Construction Grammar – Conceptualization and Mental Representation.....	167
4.3.1 The Conceptualization of Constructions from a Cognitive, Usage-Based Perspective	168
4.3.2 Conceptualization of Constructions in Multilingual Contexts	179
4.3.3 Summary	182
4.3.4 Review Questions	183
5 Linguistic Diversity, Relativity, and Cognitive Linguistics.....	184
5.1 Linguistic Diversity.....	185
5.1.1 Semantic Variation across Languages	185
5.1.2 Spatial Frames of Reference	188
5.1.3 Motion Events	191
5.1.4 Body Parts.....	194
5.1.5 How Semantic Diversity Can Be Studied	196
5.1.6 Summary	197
5.1.7 Review Questions	198
5.2 Linguistic Relativity and Cross-Linguistic Differences.....	199
5.2.1 What Is Linguistic Relativity?	199
5.2.2 For and Against Relativity	203
5.2.3 Summary	210
5.2.4 Review Questions	210
5.3 Linguistic Diversity, Relativity, and Cognitive Linguistics.....	211
5.3.1 Semantic Variation and Cognitive Linguistics	212
5.3.2 Cognitive Mechanisms and Explanations to Semantic Diversity.....	215
5.3.3 Different Types of Universals.....	219
5.3.4 Summary	222
5.3.5 Review Questions	223

6 How It All Began: The Acquisition of Language(s) in Childhood.....	224
6.1 Children and Language: The Early Years	225
6.1.1 Terminological Tangle: Does a Child ‘Acquire’ or ‘Learn’ Languages?	225
6.1.2 When Does First Language Acquisition Begin? A Child’s First Year	227
6.1.3 The Language Acquisition Path Continues: Acquiring Vocabulary	231
6.1.4 Summary	237
6.1.5 Review Questions	238
6.2 How Children Create Constructions	239
6.2.1 Accessing Syntax: Receptive Abilities	240
6.2.2 Acquisition: The Most Important Steps	242
6.2.3 Explanatory Approaches	245
6.2.4 Summary	254
6.2.5 Review Questions	255
6.3 Early Child Multilingualism	256
6.3.1 Who Is Actually Multilingual?	256
6.3.2 Multilingual Acquisition Scenarios	259
6.3.3 Explanatory Approaches: Is Age ‘Critical’?	260
6.3.4 Multilingual Phenomena: Language Mixing	263
6.3.5 Summary	268
6.3.6 Review Questions	269
7 Gestures, Language, and Cognition	270
7.1 Gestures as Part of Language – Modern Gesture Research	271
7.1.1 Gestures and Language	271
7.1.2 Gestures and the Formulation of Utterances	274
7.1.3 Gestures and Cognition	277
7.1.4 Summary	282
7.1.5 Review Questions	283

7.2 Gestures and Their Meaning	284
7.2.1 Gestures as Semiotic Signs	284
7.2.2 Gestures and Their Relationship with Language	291
7.2.3 Summary	299
7.2.4 Review Questions	299
7.3 Gestures in Foreign Language Classes: Understanding, Memorization, Problem-Solving.....	300
7.3.1 Gestures and L2-Acquisition	301
7.3.2 Understanding	302
7.3.3 Memorization	306
7.3.4 Problem-Recognition and -Solving.....	307
7.3.5 Summary	310
7.3.6 Review Questions	311
