19. Toward a More Rational Study of the Physiology of Pregnancy Using Contour Photography (K. N. Tympanidis and G. E. Karras)	242

VIII Induction of Labor 251

1. Elective Induction of Labor: Indications and Benefits (H. Jung)	251
2. Elective Induction of Labor: Uterine Contractility and Cervical Ripeness (M. Ichijo, I. Moriyama, K. Hiraoda, E. Ushioda, T. Takayama, H. Kosakai, H. Iioka, M. Oku, S. Ueda, H. Yamamura, and K. Nakagawa)	254
3. Interruption of Pregnancy After the 24th Week of Gestation (F. K. Beller)	257

IX Labor 260

1. Childbirth in Different Positions: Psychological Effects on the Mother (H. Nagai, S. Koga, K. Okamura, Y. Wada, H. Maruyama, and T. Yoshida)	260
2. The Optimum Birth Position - Vertical vs Horizontal: The Example of the Trobriand People, Papua New Guinea (U. Pöschl)	263
3. The Mother's Response to Adopting Alternative Positions in Labour (N. Morris and F. Haddad)	267
4. Perinatal and Infantile Repercussions of Deliveries in the Squatting Position (S. Hugo)	269
5. Moldability of the Bony Pelvis During Labor and After Delivery (U. Borell)	271
6. Prevention of Neglected Labour With and Without Hospital Facilities (V. Hingorani)	272
7. The Diagnosis and Assessment of Patients in Neglected Labour (A. Ward)	274
8. Management of Obstructed Labour and Uterine Rupture in the Multipara (I. M. Brown)	276

9. Patterns of Normal and Abnormal Labour in Primiparae and Multiparae: Cervical Dilatation, Uterine Activity, Head Descent (D. B. Cowan)	278
10. Anxiety and Its Influence on the Course of Labour (N. Morris and F. Haddad)	280

X Obstetrical Anesthesia 286

1. Systemic Analgesia in Obstetrics: Inhalation Analgesia (M. Fujimori)	286
2. Regional Anaesthesia: The Fetus and the Neonate (J. D. Paull)	288
3. Epidural Anaesthesia and Analgesia (J. S. Crawford)	292

XI Cesarean Section 295

1. Rising Rates of Cesarean Section: Maternal and Perinatal Advantages (T. Jimbo)	295
2. Rising Rates of Cesarean Sections: Maternal and Perinatal Disadvantages (E.-J. Hickl)	299
3. The Rising Rates of Cesarean Section (P. Belfort)	306
4. Maternal Position During Cesarean Section: Influence on the Fetus (W. Künzel and S. Oezsoy)	310
5. Use of Newer Antibiotics in Treatment of Infection After Cesarean Section (R. S. Gibbs)	313

XII Maternal and Perinatal Mortality 315

1. A Global Overview of Maternal and Perinatal Mortality and Morbidity (J. S. Tomkinson)	315
2. Social Trends in Maternal Mortality: The English Viewpoint (G. Chamberlain)	317
3. Thirty Years of Maternal Mortality in Massachusetts (J. F. Jewett)	318
4. Survey of Maternal Mortality in Japan (Y. Kuwabara)	323
5. Maternal Mortality in Hungary (L. G. Lampé)	324
6. Government Statistics on Maternal Mortality in England and Wales (A. C. Turnbull)	327

7. Maternal Mortality in Brazil (B. Neme and M. Zugaib)	330	A Replication (M. H. Klaus, J. H. Kennell, S. Robertson, and R. Sosa)	347
8. Social Factors in Maternal Mortality in Italy (I. Panella)	332	15. Perinatal Death in Indonesian Obstetrics: Control for Pregnancy Care and Fetal Growth MCM-45 (R. P. Bernard and S. Sastrawinata) . . .	349
9. Social Factors in Maternal Death in Japan (S. Shinagawa)	336
10. Hypertensive Pregnancy as a Cause of Maternal Mortality, Morbidity, and Metabolic Changes in Japan (M. Suzuki and N. Furuhashi)	338	XIII Puerperium	355
11. Social Factors in Maternal Mortality in Malaysia (K. Yusof)	340	1. Use of Dopamine Agonists for Inhibition of Lactation (R. Rolland) . .	355
12. Maternal Mortality: Problems of Data Collection in Confidential Enquiries in a Developing Country (K. Zaveri, I. Hinduja, and M. Karkal)	342	2. Stimulation of Lactation by Pharmacological Means (R. Rolland) .	358
13. Perinatal Mortality and Morbidity: Variables and Influences (P. M. Dunn) .	345	3. Management of Breast Engorgement and Puerperal Mastitis (M. Breckwoldt and F. Peters)	361
14. The Effects of a Woman Caregiver on Perinatal Morbidity in Guatemala:		4. Endocrinology of Normal and Defective Lactation: Clinical Implications (O. Ylikorkala)	363

I Oncology – General Aspects	367	3. The Diagnosis and Management of Partial and Complete Hydatidiform Moles (J. G. Stolk, P. Kenemans, and H. R. Franke)	385
1. Detection, Early Diagnosis and Treatment of Gynecologic Malignancy (M. Coppleson)	367	4. A Review of Trophoblastic Tumors in Diyarbakir Region, Turkey (O. Erman, A. Turfanda, H. Uyar, E. Bengisu, A. Akkaya, and F. Oner)	389
2. Advances in the Management of Gynecologic Malignancies (H. R. K. Barber)	370	5. Diagnosis and Treatment of Low-Risk Metastatic Gestational Trophoblastic Neoplasms (C. B. Hammond)	393
3. Pregnancy Proteins as Markers for Estrogenicity and Malignancy (B. von Schoultz)	375	6. The Management of High-Risk Gestational Trophoblastic Tumours (K. D. Bagshawe)	396
4. The Murine Subrenal Capsule Assay (M. A. Rettenmaier, J. A. Stratton, and P. J. DiSaia)	376	7. Pathologic Findings in Hysterectomized Trophoblastic Neoplasms (Sutoto and Saryadi)	398
II Oncology – Trophoblastic Tumors .	378	III Oncology – Vulva and Vagina . . .	403
1. The Role of Immunobiology in the Natural History of Hydatidiform Moles and Gestational Trophoblastic Tumors (S. Takeuchi)	378	1. Human Papillomavirus Infections of the Vulva and Vagina (H. G. Bender)	403
2. Diagnosis and Treatment of Nonmetastatic Gestational Trophoblastic Tumors (M. W. Shin) . . .	379

2. Oncology of Vulva and Vagina (B. Kneale)	406	with Cervical Intraepithelial Neoplasia (M. Coppleson)	442
3. Vulvar Dysmorphies (G. R. di Paola and E. G. Friedrich, Jr.)	408	13. Morphology of Dysplasia (E. Burghardt)	443
4. The Relationship of Vulvar Dysmorphies to Invasive Squamous Cell Carcinoma of the Vulva (O. Frankman and Z. Kabulski)	409	14. Control of Carcinoma of the Cervix: Role of Mathematical Model (M. Coppleson)	446
5. Microcarcinoma of the Vulva: Does it Exist? (B. Kneale)	412	15. Screening Programme for Cervical Cancer and Public Education (M. Roy)	448
6. Early Invasive Vulvar Cancer (M. A. Rettenmaier and P. J. DiSaia)	414	16. Results of 10 Years' Mass Cytological Screening for Cervical Carcinoma and Its Precursors (H.-J. Soost and B. Ruffing)	450
7. The Midline Incision in the Operative Treatment of Vulvar Cancer (J. W. Barents and A. C. M. van Lindert)	416	17. Laser Evaporation and Laser Conization (G. Larsson)	452
IV Oncology - Cervix	419	18. Destruction of Cervical Intraepithelial Neoplasia at 100°C Using the Semm "Cold" Coagulator (I. D. Duncan)	455
1. The New Colposcopic Nomenclature (M. Coppleson)	419	19. Cryosurgery in the Management of Cervical Intraepithelial Neoplasia (W. E. Crisp)	457
2. Clinical Colposcopy: Indications, Management, and Video Presentation (H. G. Hillemanns)	421	20. The Efficacy of Electrocoagulation Diathermy in Eradicating Precancerous Lesions of the Cervix (W. Chanen)	458
3. Pitfalls in Colposcopic Diagnosis (J. A. Jordan)	423	21. Conization vs Destructive Methods in the Treatment of Cervical Intraepithelial Neoplasia (E. Holzer)	460
4. The Role of Colposcopy in Screening Programmes for Cancer of the Cervix: Global Experience (J. A. Jordan)	425	22. Clinical Staging of Cervical Carci- noma: A Critical Study (J. P. Wolff)	463
5. Present Status of the Relation Between Human Papillomavirus and Dysplasia and Carcinoma of the Cervix (T. Okagaki)	426	23. Ultraradical Surgery for Uterine Cervical Cancer (K. Noda)	465
6. Clinical Aspects of Human Papilloma Virus Infection (M. Coppleson)	429	V Oncology - Endometrium	467
7. Genital Warts and Cervical Cancer: A Colposcopic Index for Differentiating Benign Papillomaviral Infection from High-Grade Intraepithelial Neoplasia (R. Reid)	431	1. Precancerous Endometrial Lesions (G. Dallenbach-Hellweg)	467
8. Colposcopy of Intraepithelial Neoplasia: Cervix, Vagina, and Vulva (L. Burke)	433	2. CO ₂ Hysteroscopy in Diagnosis of Uterine Cancer (J. Stelmachów)	469
9. Screening Program for Cancer of the Cervix (L. Burke)	436	3. Distinguishing Atypical Endometrial Hyperplasia from Well-Differentiated Carcinoma (R. J. Kurman and H. J. Norris)	471
10. Global Experience with Screening Programs for Cancer of the Cervix (L. C. Zeferino)	438	4. Management of Precancerous Lesions of the Endometrium (F. Gasparri, G. Scarselli, M. Colafranceschi, G. L. Taddei, C. Tantini, and L. Savino)	473
11. Colposcopy of Invasive Cancer (R. Cartier)	440	5. Receptors and Hormone Dependency of Cancer Cell Proliferation (T. Sugawa)	478
12. Pretreatment Evaluation of Patients

6. Receptors and the Prevention of Endometrial Cancer (J. G. Aalders) . . .	479	Jr., K. C. Podratz, J. A. Jefferies, J. H. Edmonson, T. R. Fleming, G. W. McCormack, and S. A. Cullinan) . . .	512
7. Influence of Steroid Receptor Content on Prognosis of Early Stage Endometrial Carcinoma (W. T. Creasman, J. T. Soper, K. S. McCarty, Jr., and K. S. McCarty, Sr.)	482
8. Prognostic Factors and Their Therapeutic Implications in Endometrial Carcinoma (W. T. Creasman)	484
VI Oncology - Ovary	486	VII Breast - Benign Breast Tumors . . .	516
1. Pathology of Borderline Tumors of the Ovary (R. E. Scully)	486	1. The Gynecologist and the Breast (J. A. Pinotti)	516
2. Early Detection of Malignant Ovarian Neoplasms Through Echography (J. A. Pinotti, C. M. M. O. de Franzin, E. F. Marussi, and L. C. Zeferino)	488	2. Epidemiology of Benign Breast Diseases (J. A. Pinotti and M. S. Costa) . . .	517
3. Management of Borderline Tumors of the Ovary (H.-E. Stegner)	495	3. Pathology of Benign Breast Disease (R. Bässler)	528
4. Management of Borderline Ovarian Tumors in Japan (Y. Terashima, M. Yasuda, and K. Ochiai)	497	4. Benign and Proliferative Lesions Associated with Breast Cancer (V. Pozzi)	530
5. Practicability and Experience of Volm's Rapid Incubation Test in Tumor Resistance Testing of Ovarian Cancer (A. Pfleiderer)	499	5. Carcinoma Lobulare in Situ of the Breast (R. Bässler and B. Katzer)	532
6. The Application of Chemosensitivity Studies in Predicting Clinical Responses (C. J. Cohen)	501	6. In Situ Intraductal Carcinoma of the Breast (H. J. Norris)	535
7. Surgery in Ovarian Carcinoma: Indications, Techniques, and Results (J. L. Lewis)	503	7. The Treatment of Benign Breast Disease (Y. Ayme, H. Brandone, I. Varette, J. Jacquemier, J. Ingrand, F. Meline, J. M. Spitalier, and R. Amalric)	536
8. Experience with Pelvic Evisceration (A. C. Almendral, S. Heinzl, and O. Käser)	505	VIII Breast - Early Diagnosis and Prognostic Factors of Breast Cancer	540
9. Radical Surgery in Cervical and Ovarian Cancer (E. Burghardt)	507	1. The Natural History of Breast Cancer: Mammographic Diagnosis (F. Kubli and D. von Fournier)	540
10. Ultraradical Surgery in Advanced Carcinoma of the Ovary (M. S. Piver)	509	2. Early Diagnosis of Breast Carcinoma (D. von Fournier)	545
11. Cyclophosphamide and Cisplatin vs Hexamethylmelamine, Cyclophosphamide, Doxorubicin, Cisplatin in Combination as Initial Chemotherapy for Stage III and IV Ovarian Carcinoma (G. D. Malkasian,		3. Prognostic Factors of Breast Cancer Detected on Screening by Mammography (A. Gad)	548
		4. Immunologic Diagnostic Evaluation of High-Risk Groups for Breast Cancer (U. D. Koenig)	552
		5. Prognostic Factors in Primary Breast Cancer (G. Kindermann)	555
		6. Diet and Breast Cancer: Causation and Therapy (E. L. Wynder, L. Cohen, and D. Rose)	558
		7. Contraceptive Steroids and the Risk of Breast Cancer (M. P. Vessey)	562
		8. Imbalance in Endogenous Steroids and the Risk of Breast Cancer (R. Vihko and D. Apter)	564

9. Estrogen-Regulated Proteins Secreted by Breast Cancer Cells: The Growth-Associated 52K Protein (H. Rochefort)	567
IX Breast - Conservative Treatment of Breast Cancer
1. New Therapeutic Modalities for Breast Cancer: Conservative Treatment (K. Thomsen)	570
2. Conservative Treatment of Breast Cancer: 10-Year Follow-up in the Milan Clinical Trial (U. Veronesi and R. Zucali)	574
3. Limitations of Conservative Treatment of Early Breast Cancer (R. Calle and J.-R. Vilcoq)	577
X Breast - Modified Surgery and Treatment Modalities
1. New Therapeutic Modalities for Breast Cancer: Quadrantectomy/Axillectomy and Radical Mastectomy with Immediate Reconstruction (J. A. Pinotti and E. M. Keppke)	579
2. The Influence of Pathologic Features on Clinical Outcome of Breast Cancer Patients Treated by Primary Radiation Therapy (J. L. Connolly, S. J. Schnitt, B. Silver, A. Recht, R. B. Cohen, and J. R. Harris)	590
3. New Therapeutic Methods in the Treatment of Breast Cancer: Preoperative Chemotherapy and Modified Surgery (G. C. Montrucoli)	592
4. Adjuvant Chemotherapy of Breast Cancer: The Milan Cancer Institute Trials (G. Bonadonna, P. Valagussa, A. Rossi, G. Tancini, C. Brambilla, M. Zambetti, and U. Veronesi)	599
XI Trends in Gynecologic Surgery
1. Advances, Anatomical Observations, Complications and Special Precautions in Vaginal Surgery, with Particular Reference to Hysterectomy (O. Käser)	601
2. Advances in Surgical Techniques Reported During the Congress (S. Sakamoto)	605
3. Controversy in the Indication for Elective Hysterectomy (P. Stoll)	607
4. Vaginal Hysterectomy (S. J. Joel-Cohen)	609
5. Indication for Elective Abdominal Hysterectomy (D. Tacchi)	610
6. Immediate Reconstructive Surgery in Ectopic Pregnancy (A. E. Alfonsin)	613
7. Management of Postoperative Infection (K. Sekiba)	615
8. Prevention and Treatment of Postoperative Ileus (H. Schmidt-Matthiesen)	617
9. Techniques to Decrease Morbidity in the Obese Patient (D. H. Nichols and C. L. Randall)	619
10. Spinal Anesthesia (H. Nolte)	621
XII Pelviscopic Surgery
1. The Importance of Endoscopic Surgery (V. Abate, G. Spallone, A. Stinchi, and V. Abate, Jr.)	623
2. The Value of Pelviscopic Surgery in Japan (Y. Iwata)	626
3. Pelviscopic Treatment of Tubal Pregnancy (L. Mettler and K. Semm)	628
4. The Influence of Pelviscopy on the Population of India (N. D. Motashaw)	630
5. The Diagnosis and Management of Uterine Anomalies with Endoscopy (R. S. Neuwirth)	632
6. Replacement of Laparotomy by Pelviscopy (K. Semm)	633
7. Surgical Pelviscopy (K. Semm)	635
8. Yield and Dissemination of Pelviscopic Surgery in the U.S. A. (E. R. Friedrich)	638
9. The Importance of Pelviscopic Surgery in Endometriosis and Ectopic Pregnancies (P. Bernard, J. P. Fabries, C. Lahaye, Y. Tourne, X. Morin, and J. M. Allouch)	640
XIII Surgery in Urinary Incontinence
1. The Diagnosis of Stress Incontinence (U. Ulmsten)	644

2. Modern Surgical Techniques in the Treatment of Urinary Incontinence and Fistulas (A. Ingelman-Sundberg)	647	2. Epidemiology of Pelvic Inflammatory Disease (L. Weström)	659
3. Preoperative Workup for Urinary Incontinence (D. R. Ostergard)	651	3. Management of Septic Shock, Shock Lung, and Disseminated Intravascular Coagulation (R. K. Laros, Jr.)	661
4. Psychologic and Sexual Effects of Neovagina Formation (M. Lancet, D. Rozenman, and M. Assael)	653	4. Prophylactic Antibiotics in Obstetrics and Gynecology (H. A. Hirsch)	663
5. Operative Techniques in Urinary Stress Incontinence (W. Fischer)	655	XV Endometriosis	665
XIV Inflammatory Diseases in Gynecology	657	1. Pharmacologic Treatment of Endometriosis (W. P. Dmowski)	665
1. Herpes Genitalis Infection of the Vulva and Vagina (H. Briones and M. Suarez) .	657	2. Studies Utilizing a Luteinizing-Hormone-Releasing Hormone Agonist in the Therapy of Endometriosis (R. W. Shaw)	667
