

A Word from the Patron Isabel Pfeiffer-Poensgen	6
A Word from the Board of Trustees Milena Karabaic, Barbara Rüschoff-Parzinger, Hildegard Kaluza	7
Words of Welcome Matthias Löb, Barbara Rüschoff-Parzinger	9
Foreword Hermann Arnhold	11
Acknowledgments	16
“A Laboratory for Experiment”: The Reception and Appropriation of Bauhaus Education in the United States Kristin Bartels	18
“I Sculpt Light.” Visions of the Classic Avant-Garde Ulrike Gärtner	30
Attempts to Move Light, Color, Forms, Bodies, and Spaces. On the Stage Experiments at the Bauhaus Torsten Blume	38
The Dazzled Eye: Josef Albers and American Op Art Tanja Pirsig-Marshall	52
Light—Abstraction—Experimentation: The Teaching and Practice of Photography at Chicago’s New Bauhaus Julie Jones	64
Rhythm and Light: Absolute Film in Germany and the United States Kristin Bartels	74

Catalogue

The Bauhaus Stage: A Workshop for Innovations The Mechanical Stage: Designs by Wassily Kandinsky, Xanti Schawinsky, Oskar Schlemmer, and Andor Weininger Eline van Dijk	89
Art in Movement: Dance and Performance Art Art as Performance Gail B. Kirkpatrick	113
Painting in Motion: Color and Light Ludwig Hirschfeld-Mack’s Farbenlichtspiele and László Moholy-Nagy’s Licht-Raum-Modulator: Photography, Film, Theater, Light Sculpture Andreas Hapkemeyer	137
The Interaction of Color: Op Art Josef Albers: Structural Constellation and Variant of Related Jeannette Redensek	155
The Corporeality of Light: Light Art “This Century Belongs to Light!” Insights into the Light Art of the Twentieth Century Marijke Lukowicz	185
Experiment: Photography Photograms by László Moholy-Nagy and György Kepes Márton Orosz	207
Biographies	252
List of Works	260
Selected Bibliography	266
Authors	268
Photo Credits and Copyright	270
Imprint	272