

Table of Contents

|                                                                         |    |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------|----|
| Introduction .....                                                      | 4  |
| Chapter 1: Theoretical Background .....                                 | 6  |
| 1.1. Conversational Dynamics.....                                       | 6  |
| 1.1.1. The Role of Context .....                                        | 6  |
| 1.1.2: Context Update.....                                              | 7  |
| 1.1.3: Discourse Models .....                                           | 9  |
| 1.1.3.1. Roberts' Dynamic Context.....                                  | 9  |
| 1.1.3.2. Farkas and Bruce's Discourse Model.....                        | 11 |
| 1.2: Information Structure .....                                        | 12 |
| 1.2.1. Givenness .....                                                  | 13 |
| 1.2.2. Topic.....                                                       | 14 |
| 1.2.2.1. The L*+H contour .....                                         | 15 |
| 1.2.2.2 The H* contour.....                                             | 15 |
| 1.2.2.3 The L* contour .....                                            | 16 |
| 1.2.3. Focus.....                                                       | 17 |
| 1.2.3.1. Alternative Semantics.....                                     | 17 |
| 1.2.3.2. The structured Meaning Approach .....                          | 20 |
| 1.2.4. The syntactic structure of sentences .....                       | 22 |
| 1.2.4.1. The X-bar theory .....                                         | 22 |
| 1.2.4.2. The Cartography of the Left Periphery .....                    | 24 |
| 1.2.4.3. From Principles and Parameters to the Minimalist Program ..... | 26 |
| 1.3. Focus on Focus .....                                               | 27 |
| 1.3.1. Information Focus .....                                          | 27 |
| 1.3.2. Corrective Focus.....                                            | 28 |
| 1.3.3. Mirative Focus.....                                              | 29 |
| 1.4. The Root vs. Non-Root Distinction.....                             | 30 |
| Chapter 2: The Test.....                                                | 33 |
| 2.1. Research goals .....                                               | 33 |
| 2.2. Test design .....                                                  | 33 |
| 2.2.1. Informants and submission methods .....                          | 37 |
| 2.3. Data analysis.....                                                 | 37 |
| 2.3.1. Likert scale data.....                                           | 37 |
| 2.3.2. Analysis methods.....                                            | 38 |
| 2.3.3. Data analysis.....                                               | 39 |
| 2.4. Preliminary conclusions .....                                      | 45 |
| 2.4.1. Follow-ups .....                                                 | 45 |

|                                                      |    |
|------------------------------------------------------|----|
| Chapter 3: Hypotheses verification .....             | 47 |
| 3.1 Pilot test .....                                 | 47 |
| 3.1.1 The production task .....                      | 48 |
| 3.1.2. The forced-choice task.....                   | 51 |
| 3.1.3. Informants and submission methods .....       | 54 |
| 3.1.4. Results .....                                 | 54 |
| 3.1.4.1. Production task.....                        | 54 |
| 3.1.4.2. Forced-choice task.....                     | 58 |
| 3.1.5. Prosodic Analysis .....                       | 59 |
| 3.1.5.1. In situ Foci.....                    | 59 |
| 3.1.5.2. Fronted root Foci .....              | 63 |
| 3.1.5.3. Fronted embedded Foci .....                 | 66 |
| Chapter 4: Conclusions .....                         | 70 |
| 4.1. Research goals and preliminary results .....    | 70 |
| 4.2. Follow-ups tests' results and conclusions ..... | 71 |
| References .....                                     | 73 |