

Contents

Preface — V

Key Abbreviations Used — XIII

Part I: Requisite Agility

- 1 Exploiting Agility for Advantage — 3
- 2 What is Organisational Agility? — 12
- 3 Prudent Opportunism — 25
- 4 Leading Agile Enterprises — 43

Bibliography for Part I — 63

Part II: The EAfA Process

- 5 Introduction to Part II: Using the EAfA Process to Exploit Agility for Advantage — 67
- 6 Step One – Orientating: What is known about achieving requisite agility? — 80
- 7 Step Two – Predicting: How might we need to change in the future? — 127
- 8 Step Three – Diagnosing: Do we have the capabilities to be agile? — 135
- 9 Step Four – Envisioning: What will we be like when we are requisitely agile? — 169
- 10 Step Five – Scoping: Where, when and how, do we need to be agile? — 180
- 11 Step Six – Customising: What types of agility do we need? — 187
- 12 Step Seven – Delivering: How can we make progress? — 227

Bibliography for Part II — 231

Part III: Resources

13 Theory, References and Follow-Up Reading — 237

Index — 287