Part I

1	Introduction	3
1.1	Patents and Software, Basics	3
1.1.1	Short History of Patents	4
1.1.2	“Software” Patents	8
1.1.3	Other Intellectual Property Rights	15
1.1.4	Some Spectacular Patent Cases in the Software Field	17
1.2	Overview of Patent Practices in the USA, Japan and Europe	20
1.2.1	Comparison of US Patent and Trademark Office, Japanese Patent Office and European Patent Office	22
1.3	Structure of the Book and Presentation of Case Methodology	29
	References	30

Part II

2	Business Methods	35
2.1	Example 1: Method of Selling	38
2.1.1	Description	38
2.1.2	Claim 1	38
2.1.3	Examiner Observations	39
2.2	Example 2: Method of Selling via a Network	40
2.2.1	Description	40
2.2.2	Claim 2	41
2.2.3	Examiner Observations	42
2.3	Example 3: Automatic Method of Selling via a Network	43
2.3.1	Description	43
2.3.2	Claim 3	44
2.3.3	Examiner Observations	45

2.4	Example 4: Automatic Method of Selling via a Network with Management of Power Production	46
2.4.1	Description	46
2.4.2	Claim 4	47
2.4.3	Examiner Observations	48
3	Administrative Methods	51
3.1	Example 1: Method of Data Gathering	52
3.1.1	Description	52
3.1.2	Claim 1	52
3.1.3	Examiner Observations	53
3.2	Example 2: Method for Assimilating Administrative Information for Setting up an Agreement	54
3.2.1	Description	54
3.2.2	Claim 2	55
3.2.3	Examiner Observations	55
3.3	Example 3: Data Processing Device for Assimilating Administrative Information for Setting up an Agreement	57
3.3.1	Description	57
3.3.2	Claim 3	58
3.3.3	Examiner Observations	58
3.4	Example 4: Method of Arranging an Agreement via Encrypted Communication Channels	59
3.4.1	Description	59
3.4.2	Claim 4	61
3.4.3	Examiner Observations	61
4	Digital Rights Management	63
4.1	Example 1: Digital Content Promotion Method	63
4.1.1	Description	63
4.1.2	Claim 1	64
4.1.3	Examiner Observations	65
4.2	Example 2: Computer-Implemented Content Promotion Method Using Encryption	66
4.2.1	Description	66
4.2.2	Claim 2	67
4.2.3	Examiner Observations	68
4.3	Example 3: Client-Server DRM System	69
4.3.1	Description	69
4.3.2	Claim 3	71
4.3.3	Examiner Observations	72
5	Database and Database Management System	75
5.1	Example 1: Simultaneous Access to a Database	77

5.1.1	Description	77
5.1.2	Claim 1	79
5.1.3	Examiner Observations	79
5.2	Example 2: Simultaneous Database Access with Time Management	80
5.2.1	Description	80
5.2.2	Claim 2	82
5.2.3	Examiner Observations	82
5.3	Example 3: Simultaneous Database Access with Automatic Time Management	83
5.3.1	Description	83
5.3.2	Claim 3	85
5.3.3	Examiner Observations	86
5.4	Conclusion	86
6	Billing and Payment	89
6.1	Example 1: Third-Party Based Billing and Payment Method	89
6.1.1	Description	89
6.1.2	Claim 1	91
6.1.3	Examiner Observations	92
6.2	Example 2: Card-Less Billing and Payment Process	93
6.2.1	Description	93
6.2.2	Claim 2	95
6.2.3	Examiner Observations	95
6.3	Example 3: Colour Matrix Based Billing and Payment System	97
6.3.1	Description	97
6.3.2	Claim 3	98
6.3.3	Examiner Observations	99
	References	101
7	Graphical User Interfaces	103
7.1	Example 1: Spell-Checking System	105
7.1.1	Description	105
7.1.2	Claim 1	105
7.1.3	Examiner Observations	105
7.2	Example 2: Dynamic Spell-Checking System	106
7.2.1	Description	106
7.2.2	Claim 2	107
7.2.3	Examiner Observations	107
7.3	Example 3: Mixed Spell-Checking System	108
7.3.1	Description	108
7.3.2	Claim 3	110
7.3.3	Examiner Observations	110

7.4	Example 4: Smart Spell-Checking System	111
7.4.1	Description	111
7.4.2	Claim 4	113
7.4.3	Examiner Observations	114
7.5	Conclusion	114
8	Simulation	117
8.1	Example 1: Method for Simulating a Flight Situation	117
8.1.1	Description	117
8.1.2	Claim 1	118
8.1.3	Examiner Observations	118
8.2	Example 2: Computer-Implemented Aircraft Configuration	118
8.2.1	Description	118
8.2.2	Claim 2	120
8.2.3	Examiner Observations	120
8.3	Example 3: Computer-Implemented Flight Simulator	122
8.3.1	Description	122
8.3.2	Claim 3	123
8.3.3	Examiner Observations	123
8.4	Example 4: Special Purpose Helicopter Simulator	124
8.4.1	Description	124
8.4.2	Claim 4	125
8.4.3	Examiner Observations	126
8.5	Special Topic – Non-unity	126
8.5.1	Claim 5	127
8.5.2	Examiner Observations	127
	References	128
9	Games	129
9.1	Example 1: Multi-player Game	130
9.1.1	Description	130
9.1.2	Claim 1	130
9.1.3	Examiner Observations	131
9.2	Example 2: Device for Multi-player Game	131
9.2.1	Description	131
9.2.2	Claim 2	133
9.2.3	Examiner Observations	133
9.3	Example 3: Hand-held Gaming Device	134
9.3.1	Description	134
9.3.2	Claim 3	136
9.3.3	Examiner Observations	136
9.4	Example 4: RFID-Based Multi-player Gaming System	137
9.4.1	Description	137
9.4.2	Claim 4	139
9.4.3	Examiner Observations	140

10	E-Learning	143
10.1	Example 1: Interactive Electronic Learning Tool	143
10.1.1	Description	143
10.1.2	Claim 1	144
10.1.3	Examiner Observations	144
10.2	Example 2: Internet-Based Interactive Learning System	145
10.2.1	Description	145
10.2.2	Claim 2	147
10.2.3	Examiner Observations	147
10.3	Example 3: Computer-Assisted Teaching System	148
10.3.1	Description	148
10.3.2	Claim 3	149
10.3.3	Examiner Observations	150
10.4	Example 4: Interactive Educational Globe System	150
10.4.1	Description	150
10.4.2	Claim 4	152
10.4.3	Examiner Observations	153
10.5	Special Topic – Lack of Disclosure	153
11	Medical Informatics	155
11.1	Example 1: Computer-Implemented Method for Managing Medical Treatment	156
11.1.1	Description	156
11.1.2	Claim 1	157
11.1.3	Examiner Observations	157
11.2	Example 2: Computer-Implemented Medical Pre-diagnosis	158
11.2.1	Description	158
11.2.2	Claim 2	159
11.2.3	Examiner Observations	159
11.3	Example 3: Computerized Method Supporting Medical Diagnosis	160
11.3.1	Description	160
11.3.2	Claim 3	161
11.3.3	Examiner Observations	161
11.4	Example 4: Computer-Controlled Surgery	162
11.4.1	Description	162
11.4.2	Claim 4	162
11.4.3	Examiner Observations	163
11.5	Conclusion	164
12	Mathematical Methods	165
12.1	Example 1: Mathematical Method for Defining Points of a Graph	166
12.1.1	Description	166

12.1.2	Claim 1	166
12.1.3	Examiner Observations	166
12.2	Example 2: Mathematical Method for Treating a Video Signal	167
12.2.1	Description	167
12.2.2	Claim 2	168
12.2.3	Examiner Observations	168
12.3	Conclusion	169
