INTRODUCTORY REPORT

Parker, E.N.: Present Knowledge, Problems and Questions concerning the Fibril Field of the Sun . . . . .	13
---	----

OBSERVATIONS

Harvey, J.: Small-Scale Photospheric Magnetic Fields: Observational Methods and Limitations . . . . .	25
Semel, M.: Unresolved Magnetic Structures in the Sun: Observational Results from Analysis of Faculae and Network Spectra . . . . .	39
Stenflo, J.O.: Stokes Polarimetry . . . . .	59
Wiehr, E.: Asymmetric Stokes-V Profiles in Plages and Enhanced Network Regions . . . . .	77

THEORETICAL MODELS

Nordlund, Å.: 3-D Model Calculations . . . . .	83
Schüssler, M.: MHD Models of Solar Photospheric Magnetic Flux Concentrations . . . . .	103
Hasan, S.S.: One-Dimensional Model Calculations of Flux Tubes . . . . .	121
Ribes, E.: Steady Flow Models of Magnetic Flux Tubes . . . . .	125

RADIATIVE TRANSFER ASPECTS

Jones, H.P.: The Interpretation of Spectrum Lines Formed in Small Solar Structures . . . . .	127
Kneer, F.: Energy Transport by Radiation . . . . .	147
Knölker, M.: A Note on the Radiative Equilibrium in 2-D Fluxtube Models . . . . .	165

DYNAMICAL PROCESSES

Roberts, B.: Dynamical Processes in Magnetic Flux Tubes . . . . .	169
Ulmschneider, P. and Muchmore, D.: Fully Dynamic Calculations of (Magneto-)Hydrodynamic Wave Propagation in Stellar Atmospheres . . . . .	191

CONCLUDING REMARKS

Schröter, E.H.: Some Impressions I took home with Me	225
