

Table of Contents

Introduction	1
A renewed focus on the EU's relationship with Moldova	2
Chapter 1: Analysing the EU's actions to address state capture in Moldova	5
1.1 Europeanisation	5
1.2 External Incentives Model	7
1.3 Methodology	9
1.4 Operationalisation	11
Chapter 2: Theorising State Capture in Moldova	13
2.1 Defining State Capture	14
2.1.1 The role of oligarchs	15
2.2 Moldova as a 'captured state'	16
2.2.1 Capturing the state apparatus	17
2.2.2 Gaining complete control	22
2.2.3 How the era of predatory elites came to an end	29
Chapter 3: The Role of the EU: Addressing or facilitating state capture?	33
3.1 The EU as a facilitator of state capture	34
3.1.1 Market and Trade Liberalisation	35
3.1.2 Legitimising Oligarchic Networks	37

3.2 The Instrumentalization of the EU to pursue state capture	39
3.2.1 The 'European View' of the Moldovan Political Elite	40
3.2.2 The Reality versus the Declaratory Progress of Europeanisation	42
Chapter 4: Contextualising the EU's Response	45
4.1 An Overview of EU-Moldova Relations	45
4.1.1 From newly independent state to ENP and EaP	46
4.1.2 A new perspective? The AA and DCFTA	47
4.2 The role of Russia in state capture	49
4.3 Defining the EU's response	50
Conclusion	53
Bibliography	57