

CONTENTS

CHAPTER	PAGE
ONE: GENERAL INTRODUCTION
1. The Cosmological Enterprise	1
1.1 Approaches to the Study of Cosmology	1
1.1.1. The Structuralist Approach; Claude Lévi-Strauss	5
1.1.2. The Marxist Approach; Pierre Bourdieu	7
1.1.3. The Symbolist Approach; Victor Turner	10
2. The Sisala; Their Location and society	13
2.1. The People and the Land	15
2.2. Social Organisation and Subsistence	19
3. The Research	22
3.1. A Search For Method	22
3.2. My Research Experience	25
3.2.1. My Subjective Frame of Reference	25
3.2.2. My Informants' Preconceptions	27
Notes	30
CHAPTER
TWO: THE UNIVERSE ITS COMPOSITION AND STRUCTURE
Introduction
1. The Supreme Being as Creator of the Universe	33
2. The Composition of the Universe	36
2.1. The Land	37
2.2. The Rain	40
2.3. The Bush/Farmland	43
2.4. The Land of the Unborn Infants	49
2.5. The Land of the Deceased	51
3. The Spatio-Temporal Structuring of the Universe	53
3.1. The Ordering of Space	53
3.1.1. The Visible and the Invisible Realms	54
3.1.2. The Sky above and the Earth below	56
3.1.3. The Village and the Bush	57
3.2. The Experience of Time	61
3.2.1. Living Through Time: Subjective Time	64
3.2.2. The Timing of Significant Events; Objective Time	67
3.2.2.1. The Wet and Dry Seasons	68
3.2.2.2. Day and Night	69
3.2.2.3. The Cycle of the Market Week	70
Summary	74
Notes	74

CHAPTER	PAGE
THREE: THE EARTH CULT; THE SHRINE AND ITS TENDER
1. The Earth Cult; A Problem of Definition	77
2. The Earth Shrine and its Related Places	81
2.1. The First Occupant and the Shrine	81
2.2. The Description of the Shrine Places	84
2.2.1. The Main Shrine	84
2.2.2. The Tree of the Land	86
2.2.3. The Room of the Land	87
2.3. The Taboos of the Land	88
3. The Shrine Tender; His Investiture and Functions	92
3.1. The Ritual Investiture and Outdoorings of the Shrine Tender	93
3.1.1. The Designation and Preparation of the Candidate	96
3.1.2. The Presentation of the Candidate to the Land	97
3.1.3. Preparations for the Outdoorings of the Totina	99
3.1.4. The Outdoorings and Presentation to the People	101
3.1.5. The Sealing of the Ritual	103
3.2. The Functions of the Earth Priest	105
Summary
Notes	109
CHAPTER
FOUR: THE POLITICO-RITUAL MAINTENANCE OF THE UNIVERSE
Introduction	110
1. A Notion of Power	111
2. The Socio-Political Organisation and Control	116
2.1. Defining the Political Unit	116
2.2. The Sisala Political Organisation	119
2.3. Organisation and Control Within the Household	124
2.4. Organisation and Control Within the Village	129
2.4.1. The Tender of the Earth	130
2.4.2. The Assistant of the Tender of the Earth	130
2.4.3. The Council of Household Heads	134
2.4.4. The Law-enforcing Body	135
2.4.5. The Chief	138
2.5. Other Social Relationships and Social Control	141
3. The Ritual Maintenance of the Universe	145
3.1. Rituals Related to the Agricultural Cycle	146
3.1.1. The Ushering in of the Rainy Season	146
3.1.2. The Tending of the Family Farm	148
3.1.3. Ritual to Arrest Drought	149
3.1.4. Ritual in the case of Bad Crops	150

	PAGE
3.1.5. The Harvest Ritual	151
3.2. Other Significant Rituals	154
3.2.1. The Construction and Opening of a New House	154
3.2.2. The Opening of a new Burial Site	155
Summary	156
CHAPTER
FIVE: THE PERSON IN THE SISALA UNIVERSE
Introduction	157
1. The Person as a Composite Individual	158
1.1. The Life-force	160
1.2. The Body and its Related Shades	160
1.3. The Soul	163
1.4. The Bodily Parts as Idioms of the Person	164
2. The Person as an Individual in Community	167
2.1. Personal Identification	169
2.2. Community of Life and Possessions	172
2.3. The Funeral Rites	173
3. The Person as an Ideal to be Realised	177
Summary	187
Notes	189
CHAPTER
SIX: THE SISALA UNIVERSE: A TRANSFORMING COSMOS
Introduction	192
1. Change as a Social Process	192
2. Changes in Scale in Sisala Society	194
2.1. The Formation of the Nation-states	195
2.2. The Introduction of the National Economy	202
2.3. The Influence of Christianity and Islam	208
2.3.1. The Catholic Missions and Development	208
2.3.2. Urbanisation, Migration and Islam	212
CONCLUSION	216
PLATES	221
BIBLIOGRAPHY	233

ILLUSTRATION	PAGE
1. Maps
1. The Relative Position of the Sisala and their Neighbouring Dagaaba	16
2. The Upper-West Region of Ghana, showing the boundaries of the Wa, Lawra, and Tumu districts prior to the decision to split the Lawra district	17
3. An Adaptation of Map 2, showing the area covered by the Research	24
2. Figures
1. The Structuring of the Sisala Universe on the Horizontal Plane	61
2. Day and Night and other significant times of the Diurnal cycle of the Sisala Universe	70
3. The Spatio-Temporal Trajectory of Human Existence in the Sisala Universe	74
4. The Spatial Reproduction of Social Distance in a Sisala Village	120
5. The Complementarity of the Patri-clan Sections in the Sisala Village Government	124
6. The Sisala notion of the Person as a Universe of Relationships	187
7. The Cosmos and the Person as mirroring each other in Sisala Cosmology	189
3. Plates
1. A Rain Shrine	221
2. A Variant of the Rain Shrine	221
3. The Baga; A new Farmland	222
4. A Shed in the Farmland	222
5. A Cock tied to a hoe handle (time symbolism)	223
6. Dirge singers calling on the Ancestors	223
7. A Village Market	224
8. An Earth Shrine	224
9. A Room on the Flat Roof	225
10. The flat roof showing ladder for climbing up	225
11. The Outdooring of an Earth Priest	226
12. The Seating of the totina under the tetuo	226
13. The Killing of the 'chicken of the land' at an installation ceremony	227

VII

14. The Procession back into the house (after the installation	227
15. The 'knife', the Symbol of Priesthood	228
16. The Musical band at a funeral celebration	228
17. Family Shrines showing the first fruits offered them at harvest time	229
18. Another Family shrine showing a finger of late millet offered	229
19. A Familyhead in front of his backsmith's workshop	230
20. A Protective shrine in a groundnut farm	230