

Contents

Acknowledgements and Preface — V

Tea Master Joel Belouet

Foreword: Passion for tea in luxury hotels — VII

Jane Pettigrew/UK Tea Academy

Foreword: It's all about tea: ceremonial enjoyment, successful entrepreneurship, and cultural pride — IX

List of figures — XV

List of tables — XIX

List of contributors — XXI

A European views on tea

Hartwig Bohne

A.1 European views on tea — 3

B Approaching tea cultures and hospitality

Bernard Ricolleau, Hartwig Bohne and Lysbeth Vink

B.1 Exploring Thea sinensis – sorts, origin, and history — 7

Markus Schuckert

B.2 The magic of tea and hospitality — 15

Ute Kemmerling

B.3 Thirst and power – Assam as the Empire's tea garden — 23

Martin Krieger

B.4 Tea – from luxury product to everyday comfort — 41

Gunther Hirschfelder and Lavinia Eifler

B.5 More than a beverage – appropriation, prevalence and cultural meaning of tea in everyday culture — 53

C Culinary embracing tea

Virginia Utermohlen Lovelace

C.1 Hosting tea and wine – Similarities of guest service excellence — 71

Nicole Klauß and Henrik Scander

C.2 Tea as a sophisticated food companion — 81

Carina Pardek and Hartwig Bohne

C.3 Hospitality in harmony: Mergers of tea and chocolate — 97

Felix Bröcker

C.4 The importance of tea for European fine dining — 109

Nicole Klauß

C.5 Tea in a bag – The history of the tea bag — 119

D Presenting tea in style

Petra Werner

D.1 The historic development of tea pots — 131

Lyudmila Britenkova and Hartwig Bohne

D.2 Tea on stand: Samovars and spirit kettles — 143

E Scouting tea culture and hospitality

Hartwig Bohne

E.1 Tea venues in Europe — 175

Carina Pardek and Hartwig Bohne

E.2 Contemporary European teahouse concepts — 183

Irena Weber

E.3 Tea with art: Dialogical imagination and hospitality — 201

Katrina Wild and Gundega Silniece

E.4 TEA TEA ME: Digital tools towards more accessibility — 221

F Experiencing the islands of tea

Vahid Ghasemi, Susana Goulart Costa, Flávio Tiago, Duarte Nuno Chaves
and Teresa Borges-Tiago

F.1 Azores tea: From industrial production to tourism experience — 239

Belinda Davenport and Hartwig Bohne

F.2 Trading and traditions – The British and tea — 255

Carol Bailleul

F.2.1 Afternoon tea or high tea – Tea traditions in England, Scotland, and Wales — 261

Robin Emmerson

F.2.2 The British tea ceremony — 271

Belinda Davenport

F.2.3 The true story of Earl Grey — 281

Lee Jolliffe

F.2.4 British tea heritage and branding — 289

Ann T. Conway and Detta Melia

F.3 Tea and Irish Hospitality — 301

G Exploring tea by the sea

Christian Hincheldey and Allan Lindgaard Winther

G.1 The Danish tea heritage — 321

Arnaud Bachelin and Hartwig Bohne

G.2 La perspective Française – The French and tea — 327

Hartwig Bohne

G.3 Tea culture and cultivation in Germany — 337

Hanne Klöver

G.3.1 German delight: East Frisian tea culture — 345

Marion Roehmer

G.3.2 Special elegance: East Frisian tea China — 359

Gabriella Lombardi

G.4 The Italian tea culture — 381

Lysbeth Vink and Annette Kappert-White

G.5 It is a man's world: The "Business of Tea" in the Netherlands and beyond — 393

Gihan Mauris and Henrik Scander

G.6 Tea in Sweden – Tradition and consumption — 407

H Discovering tea by land

Stefan Nungesser, Isabell Stern and Andreas N. Ludwig

H.1 Tea in Austria – In the land of coffee houses — 417

Bernhard Bauer

H.2 Azerbaijan and Georgia: Caucasian tea habits — 429

Samuel Bartoš, Jan Hán and Kateřina Havelková

H.3 Czech tea heritage, entrepreneurship and perspective — 441

Hartwig Bohne and Monika Kostera

H.4 Herbata! Polish tea culture and traditions — 455

Gülsün Yildirim and Hartwig Bohne

H.5 Tea culture in Türkiye — 459

Kateryna Fedosova and Maksym Malyhin

H.6 Ukrainian tea habits and traditions — 469

I Hospitalitea in Europe: Tea culture and hospitality heritage

Hartwig Bohne

I.1 Hospitalitea in Europe: Tea culture and hospitality heritage — 477

Epilogue — 487

Index — 489