

Table of Contents

Acknowledgements	V
Preface	VII

Introduction	1
1. A Ghost That Haunts Our Western World	1
2. Theology and Philosophy as Archaeological Discourses: Some Methodological Issues	3
3. Pneuma , or How to Hunt the Ghost of Totalitarianism: Mapping the Book	7

First Part: Stasis

Chapter 1: Stasis and the Theo-Political Paradigm of Autarchy	19
1.1 The Meaning of Life	19
1.2 Own Yourself: Oikeiosis and Body Proper	22
1.3 Life Facing Death: From Oeconomia Animalis to Homeostasis	29
1.4 Autopoiesis and the Immunological Paradigm	42
1.5 Rule Yourself: The Body Politic and Internal War in Ethics	47
1.6 The Paradoxical Living God	56

Chapter 2: Political Theology	69
2.1 Secularization as a Critical Program	69
2.2 Political Theology	77
2.3 Jürgen Moltmann and the Grounding of a Pragmatic Political Theology	97
2.4 Economic Theology and Biopolitics: Agamben's Political Exploration of Trinity	105

Second Part: Dispositio

Chapter 3: Pneuma and the Organization of the Bio-Political Cosmos	115
3.1 Economy, or the Art of Monarchy	115
3.2 Pneuma and the Economy of the Organic Body in Aristotle	119
3.3 The Stoic Bio-Political Cosmology	133
3.4 The Theological and Political Cosmology of the Pseudo-Aristotelian De Mundo	151
3.5 Philo of Alexandria: Monarchial Monotheism	170
 Chapter 4: The Holy Spirit in the World	 183
4.1 The One God and the Trinity	183
4.2 Early Christian Cosmology: Between the Holy Spirit and the World-Soul	189
4.3 Pneumatological Cosmology	201

Third Part: Dispensatio

Chapter 5: Economy as Dispensatio	229
5.1 The True God, the True Religion	229
5.2 Tertullian: The Second in Charge or the Need For Dispensatio	234
5.3 Spiritus Sanctificans: Basil of Cesarea's De Spiritu Sancto	249
 Chapter 6: Augustine's City of God: The Sovereign God and the Drama of History	 271
6.1 The Drama of History and God's Providenced	271
6.2 The Paradigmatic Heavenly City and the Bliss of Its Citizens	280
6.3 The Pilgrim City of God and Christian Cosmopolitism	288
6.4 The Power That Restrains and the Eschatological City of God	304

Chapter 7: The Holy Spirit in the Church 315

7.1 Erik Peterson's Ecclesiological Political Theology 315

7.2 The Pneumatological Nature of the Church: Yves Congar 331

7.3 Liturgical Theology: The Pneumatological Politics Officium 343

7.4 The Eschatological Politics of Deification and the Age of the Spirit 350

Fourth Part: In the Light

Chapter 8: Doxological Eschatology 367

8.1 A Fundamental Constellation: Perichoresis, Apokatastasis, Oikeiosis ... 367

8.2 The Eternal Sabbath and the Life-Giving Spirit 387

8.3 Sergius Bulgakov: The Metaphor of Light and the Transparency of the Spirit 395

8.4 Transparency, Beyond Stasis 404

Conclusion 411

Bibliography 417

Index of Names 435

Index of Subjects 437