

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	xi
Introducing the Newsphere	I
The News Road Less Traveled	2
We Are All Connected (Even If We Don't Know It Yet)	4
1 Teilhard's Rules for Navigating the Newsphere	9
Pierre Teilhard de Chardin: A Pioneering Evolutionist	12
The Collapse of the Northeast Power Grid Illustrates Interconnectedness	16
What Happened? Who Was to Blame?	17
Why It Is Important To Learn to Trust Our Own Instincts	19
Who Decides What Is News in Newsphere?	20
News Creation and Distribution Is an Ongoing Process	21
Ich bin ein Media Ecologist	22
2 The Illusion of News	27
The Media Is Not Journalism and Journalism Is Not the News	28
Media Products and Journalistic Practices Are Not the Same	29
"There Are Media Everywhere. There Just Isn't All That Much Journalism."	30

	A Brief Theoretical Look at the Construction of News	32
	What Exactly Is a Medium and What Is Its Role in the Newsphere?	33
	Who Sets the News Agenda? A Case Study of News Creation, Consumption, and Delivery in Baltimore, Maryland	33
	De-Evolution in the Newsphere: The Reporting of the Somali Pirates' Capture of Navy Captain Richard Phillips	38
	How Is Our Hunger for Awareness Satisfied?	40
	Journalists Are "Watchdogs" Guarding Against Abuses of Power	41
	Reporters Act as Our Eyes and Ears	42
	Storytelling Is Very Different Now	43
	"News About News" Misinforms	45
	Journalism Is a Dynamic Search for Truth	47
	Journalist as Blogger: A New Role for Professional Journalists	49
3	Choosing the Comfortable Lie or the Uncomfortable Truth	53
	Flaws in the Hearts and Minds of Journalists and Newsrooms	57
	How Public Opinion Is Manipulated in a Democracy	59
	More Technology May Mean More but Not Necessarily Better Journalism	62
	Something Essential Is Missing in the Newsphere	64
	Journalism's Long History of Innovation	66
	Newspapers Search for Ways to Adapt to Digital Delivery	68
4	The Role of Perception in the Newsphere	73
	The Individual Is at the Center of the Creation of Integral News	75
	How Do We Better Understand Readers' Perceptions and Misperceptions?	76
	Distraction Can Be Necessary and Valuable: One Hiker's Story	79
5	An Ecology of News	83
	The Media Ecology of News	86
	Imagine: We're All Journalists Now	88
	Theories Behind the Citizen Journalism Movement	90
	Open Content Is Self-Vetting; Quality in and as the Network	92
6	How to Consume News	97
	Audiences Use Relevance to Create Meaning and Add Value	99
	Strategies for Consciously Consuming News	102
	Neil Postman Explains the Role of Education in Creating Informed News Consumers	102
	W. James Potter Suggests Paying Closer Attention to the Framing of News	104

John McManus Calls for Vigilance and Personal Accountability	105
Howard Rheingold's Antidote for News Pollution	106
Some Simple Rules for Navigating the Newsphere	107
How the Ann Arbor Chronicle Creates Value	108
7 The Essence of Journalism	111
The Origins of the Word Noosphere	111
New Qualities of News	113
New Forms of News	114
The New Role of News Consumers	115
Listening Rhetoric Informs News Consumption	116
The New Role of the Integral Journalist	117
Bibliography	119
Index	127