

CONTENTS

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS	11
0. GENERAL INTRODUCTION	13
0.1. Identification and Exposition of the Eco-Theological Problem	13
0.2. A Jewish Perspective	15
0.3. Thesis Statements	18
0.4. Aim of the Dissertation	19
0.5. Scope of the Research	20
0.6. Approach of the Theological Construction	21
0.7. Research Method	22
0.8. Definitions of Concepts	22
0.8.1. Tala o le Vavau – Myths	22
0.8.2. Tala Tuu – Oral Traditions	24
0.8.3. Religio-Cultural Heritage	24
0.8.3.1. Tapua'iga – Religion	25
0.8.3.2. Religion in Universal Theories	26
0.8.3.3. Aganu'u – Culture	28
0.8.3.4. Culture in Universal Theories	28
0.8.3.5. Religio-Cultural Lifeway	29
0.8.4. Aiga: An Eco-Religio-Cultural Metaphor	30
0.8.5. Aiga: Eco-Theological Symbolisms	32
0.8.6. Embodiment – Aiga in Imagery Terms	33
1. THE THREATENED HOUSE – OIKOS	35
1.1. The Ecological Crisis	35
1.1.1. A Global Reality	35
1.1.2. The Endangered and Broken Eco-Systems	38
1.1.3. Global Warming	38
1.1.4. Climate Change and Rising Sea-Level	39
1.1.5. Globalized Centre-Periphery Model	42
1.2. Samoa (Oceania) – A Double-Context of Eco-Dangers	44
1.2.1. A Defenseless Context	44
1.2.1.1. Land and Human Resources	45
1.2.1.1.1. Population Mobility	45
1.2.1.1.2. Agriculture	46
1.2.1.1.3. Deforestation	48
1.2.1.1.4. Mining	49
1.2.1.2. Pollution of Ocean/Sea Resources	50
1.2.1.2.1. Marine Pollution	50
1.2.1.2.2. Fishing	51
1.3. Technological Age and Its Effects	52
1.3.1. Nuclear Technology: Case Studies	52
1.3.1.1. U.S. Nuclear Testings: Bikini and Johnston Atolls	53
1.3.1.2. British Nuclear Testing: Monte Bello, Maralinga, and Christmas Island	55
1.3.1.3. French Nuclear Testings: Moruroa and Fangataufa Atolls	56
1.4. Summary	58

2.	ECOLOGY AND RELIGIO-CULTURAL TRANSITIONS	60
2.1.	Virginity of Samoa and Some Ecological Portraits	60
2.1.1.	The Historic-Geographical Setting	60
2.1.2.	Observations of the Samoans	62
2.1.3.	Socio-Political Organisation and Settlements	63
2.1.4.	Economy, Early Exchanges and Trade	64
2.2.	Samoan Perceptions and Myths of Papalagi	66
2.2.1.	The Power of the God of the Papalagi	67
2.2.2.	Deficiencies of the God of the Papalagi	68
2.3.	New Religious Convictions and Changing Worldviews	70
2.3.1.	The Samoan Warrior Cult	71
2.3.2.	Runaway Sailors' Cult	73
2.3.2.1.	Theological Teachings	74
2.3.2.1.1.	The Understanding of God	74
2.3.2.1.2.	Sacraments of Baptism and the Holy Communion	75
2.3.2.1.3.	Creation and Salvation	76
2.3.3.	Siovili or the Joe Gimblet Cult	77
2.3.3.1.	Theological Formulations	79
2.3.3.1.1.	Understanding of the Godhead	79
2.3.3.1.2.	Eschatological Perspective	80
2.3.3.1.3.	Creation and Salvation	81
2.4.	Arrival of the New Lotu	81
2.4.1.	Decision of LMS Mission Fields	83
2.4.1.1.	John Williams and the LMS Mission to Samoa	85
2.4.1.2.	LMS Mission Activity	86
2.4.2.	Wesleyan Methodist Mission Society – WMMS	88
2.4.3.	Roman Catholic Mission	88
2.4.4.	Missions and Religio-Cultural Transitions	89
2.5.	Summary	90
3.	THEOLOGICAL AND SOCIO-ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENTS: EFFECTS OF MISSIONS ON ECOLOGICAL LIFE SYSTEMS	92
3.1.	The Ecological Effects of Christianization and Colonization	92
3.1.1.	Background of Theological Developments	92
3.1.1.1.	Articles of Faith	94
3.1.1.2.	Theocracy and the Lotu	97
3.1.2.	The Conquest of Gods	97
3.1.3.	Theological Formulation: Understanding of God	100
3.2.	The Moral and the Spiritual Development of the Lotu	102
3.2.1.	Demonization of Local Spirits	103
3.2.2.	Spiritual Discipline and the Civilized Knowledge	104
3.2.3.	Religio-Cultural Purification	106
3.3.	Social and Political Developments of the Lotu	107
3.3.1.	Theological Tendencies	110
3.3.2.	Social and Religious Regulations	112
3.4.	The Lotu and the Colonial Rules	112
3.4.1.	A Perspective on Lotu and Colonial Rulers	114
3.4.2.	Questions of Social and Political Power	115

3.5.	Industrial and Economic Developments of the Lotu	117
3.5.1.	Theological Tendencies	117
3.5.2.	Monetary-System and the Developments of the Lotu	120
3.5.2.1.	Monetary Operations	121
3.5.2.2.	Commercialized Views on Natural Resources	122
3.5.2.3.	The Lotu, Commerce and Colonialism	124
3.6.	An Analytical Theological Reflection	127
3.7.	Summary	129
4.	LOTU IN THE CONTEMPORARY ECO-SITUATION: AN ANALYSIS	131
4.1.	Place of Ecological Issues in the Life of the Lotu	131
4.1.1.	Centrality of the Lotu	131
4.1.2.	Pastoral Roles and Ecological Commitments	133
4.1.2.1.	Ecology and the Status of the Faifeau	136
4.1.2.2.	Laity and Eco-Issues	139
4.2.	Inculturation Process and Ecological Issues	140
4.2.1.	The Roots of Eco-Problems in Inculturation	140
4.2.1.1.	Quantitative Emphasis of Inculturation – An Illustration	141
4.2.1.2.	Quantitative Inculturation and Ecological Deficits	143
4.2.1.3.	Responses to the Quantitative Emphasis of Inculturation	145
4.2.2.	An Analysis: Economic and Ecological Systems of the Lotu	145
4.3.	Theological and Doctrinal Links to Local Eco-Problems	148
4.3.1.	Biblical Texts and Ordinary Theological Interpretations	148
4.3.1.1.	Creator God and Creation out of Nothing	149
4.3.1.2.	Humankind in the Image of God	149
4.3.1.3.	Human Dominion	150
4.3.1.4.	Be Fruitful and Multiply	151
4.3.2.	Ecclesiastical Centredness	152
4.3.3.	The Sacraments: Proclaimed Word – Central-Yet-Bounded	153
4.3.4.	Holy Communion	153
4.4.	Summary	154
5.	THEO-COSMOLOGICAL VIEWS OF SAMOA	155
5.1.	Ancestral Worldviews	155
5.1.1.	Tapuaiga Fa'amalama – Worship	159
5.1.2.	Ritualistic Aspects of the Ancestral-Cosmic Religion	160
5.1.2.1.	Contemplating Aspect – Tapuaiga Nofonofo	161
5.1.2.2.	Offering – Taulaga	161
5.1.2.3.	Reconciliation – Ifoga	162
5.2.	Theological Concepts of the Ancestral Religion	162
5.2.1.	Gods – Atua	163
5.2.1.1.	Deified Gods – Tupua	164
5.2.1.2.	Aitu as Gods	165
5.2.1.3.	Spirits – Agaga	167
5.2.2.	Habitations of Gods and Spirits	167
5.2.3.	Taulaitu and Taulasea – Priest and Shaman	168
5.2.4.	Mana and Tapui	168

5.3.	Traditions and Worldviews	170
5.3.1.	Mata-Saua – Traditions of Origin	171
5.3.1.1.	Lagi – Categories of Heaven	172
5.3.1.2.	Pulotu or Fafa o Saualii – The Hades	173
5.3.2.	Samoa Myths of Creation	175
5.3.2.1.	Manua Versions of Creation Myths	176
5.3.2.2.	Mythical Versions of Upolu and Savai'i	178
5.3.3.	Myths of the Origins of Nature	179
5.3.4.	The Significance of Land, Sea and Sky	180
5.3.4.1.	Relational Understanding of the Trilogy	181
5.3.4.2.	Nafanua – A Theo-Ecological Model of Life	182
5.3.5.	Samoa Heritage and the Significance of Naming	183
5.3.6.	Traditional Divisions of Samoa	184
5.4.	Summary	185
6.	CREATION AS AIGA: AN ECO-THEOLOGICAL EXPOSITION	187
6.1.	Creation – A Biblical Perspective	187
6.1.1.	Creation as Oikos and the Problem of Biblical Interpretations	188
6.1.1.1.	The Concept Oikos	189
6.1.1.2.	Biblical Interpretations	190
6.1.1.3.	Religio-Cultural Contexts	191
6.1.1.4.	Approach and Method of Interpretation	192
6.2.	Creation as Home or Household – Gen. 1-3	192
6.2.1.	Priestly Creation Narrative	196
6.2.1.1.	Creator-God Creates and Separates	196
6.2.1.2.	Gathering and Ordering of Living-Communities	202
6.2.1.3.	Image of God and Humankind's Dominion	204
6.2.1.4.	God Rests and Created Communities Regenerate	206
6.2.2.	Yahwist Creation Narrative	209
6.2.2.1.	Creator-God and a Lifeless Community	210
6.2.2.2.	Eden – A Habitation of Life	211
6.2.2.3.	Yahweh and the Law for Trees	213
6.2.2.4.	The Serpent – An Ecological Option	214
6.3.	Creation as Oikos in the New Testament	216
6.3.1.	Exposition on St. John 1:1-5 and Ephesians 1:9-14	217
6.3.1.1.	The Prologue: The Logos – St. John 1:1-5	218
6.3.1.2.	Becoming as the Activity of the Logos	221
6.3.1.3.	Logos as Life and Light versus Darkness	222
6.3.1.4.	Logos – Ecological Implications	224
6.3.2.	Mystery and the Plan of God: Oikos Model – Eph. 1:9-14	225
6.3.2.1.	House/Household as a Model for the Faith-Community	226
6.3.2.2.	Organic Model of Creation as a Household	229
6.4.	A Contextual Analytical Reflection: Retrospect and Prospect	229
6.4.1.	Contrasts in Religio-Cultural Contexts	230
6.4.2.	Ecological Reflexes of Samoa Creation Mythologies	231
6.5.	Summary	232

7.	THEO-ECOLOGICAL CLAIMS OF AIGA: SYSTEMATIC EXPOSITION	234
7.1.	A Contextual Ecological Understanding of the Triune God	234
7.1.1.	Aiga o Atua ma le Atua o Aiga – Household of God and God of the Household	235
7.1.2.	Aiga o Atua ma le Atua o Aiga in Trinitarian Expressions	237
7.1.2.1.	The Communal Nature of Aiga o Atua	240
7.1.2.2.	O Sootaga o Atua o Aiga – God and Household in Relational Terms	243
7.1.3.	O le Atua i Itutino uma o le Aiga – God in Everything – Panentheism	245
7.1.4.	Aiga as Body and Embodiment of God	247
7.1.5.	Image and Likeness of God in Aiga	249
7.2.	Keriso o le Tautua Aiga: A Christic-Ecological Perspective	251
7.2.1.	Keriso o le Tautua Mana e Tapu: Christ as Divine Potent in Aiga	251
7.2.1.1.	Keriso o le Tautua Upu ma le Poto: Christ as Word and Wisdom	253
7.2.1.2.	Incarnational Christ and Ecology	254
7.2.1.2.1.	O le Keriso Tautua: The Serving Christ	256
7.2.1.2.2.	Jesus and the Poor in the Context of Aiga	257
7.2.1.2.3.	Cosmic Poor in Jesus Service	259
7.2.2.	Keriso o le Matai o le Aiga: Chieftainship of Christ	260
7.2.2.1.	O le Pule Fa'aMatai a Keriso – Chieftainship of Christ	262
7.3.	Aiga: A Pneumatological Perspective	263
7.3.1.	Life-giving Activity of the Spirit of God	264
7.3.2.	Liberating and Saving Energy of the Holy Spirit	266
7.3.3.	Life-Orientating Activity – Holy Spirit and Human Spirit	268
7.4.	Summary	270
8.	AN ECOLOGICAL LITURGY OF AIGA	271
8.1.	Christian Eco-Theology in Worship Life	271
8.2.	An Ecological Seasonal Worship Calendar	271
8.3.	Restatement of the Faith Affirmation	272
8.4.	Liturgical Ecological Model	275
8.4.1.	Worship Settings and Contexts	276
8.4.1.1.	Normal Order of Worship – Congregational Christian Church Services	277
8.4.1.2.	An Invitation: Call to Worship	277
8.4.1.3.	Invocation	278
8.4.1.4.	Hymns	278
8.4.1.5.	Offering	280
8.4.1.6.	Holy Scriptures and Preachings	280
8.4.1.7.	Prayers	281
8.4.1.8.	Sacraments – Baptism and Holy Communion	282
8.4.1.9.	Blessing	283
9.	CONCLUSION	285
9.1.	Christian Theology and Mission	285
9.2.	Need for New Paradigms	287
9.3.	Eco-Theological Agenda	289

9.4.	Personal Reflection and Analysis	291
9.4.1.	Goals and Fulfillments	291
9.4.2.	Challenges	291
9.4.3.	Visions and Hopes	292
9.5.	An Eco-Ethical-Spirituality	292
ABBREVIATIONS		294
GLOSSARY		295
APPENDIXES		297
App. i	Samoa Fale – House	297
App. ii	Song of Siovili	297
App. iii	Lady Sina and the Origin of the Coconut Tree	297
App. iv	Traditional Division of Samoa – Island of Upolu as an Example	298
App. v	Tino – Body	300
App. vi	The Concept Tautua Aiga	300
MAPS		301
Map I	Oceania	301
Map II	Samoa (former: Western Samoa)	302
Map III	American Samoa	303
BIBLIOGRAPHY		304
Archival and Original Materials		304
Books, Journals, Informants and other Sources		305