

Contents

Chronicle of the City

The Ducal Age

- Henry the Lion, Founder of Munich 8
- The Early Settlement 8
- The Rise of the Wittelsbachs 9
- Imperial Interlude: Ludwig the Bavarian 11
- Power Struggles 15
- Civic Construction: Frauenkirche and City Hall 17
- The Capital of Bavaria 19
- The Munich Renaissance Court 21
- A Legendary Princely Wedding 23
- Stronghold of the Counter-Reformation 24
- Salt, Beer and Alchemy 26

The Age of Electors

- Patrona Bavariae 29
- The Italian Spirit 33
- Max Emanuel, the "Blue Elector" 34
- Views of the Baroque Town 36
- Munich Rococo 38
- Karl Theodor, the Elector from the Palatinate 42
- The English Garden 43

The Age of Kings

- Alliance with Napoleon 46
- Munich Institutions: Oktoberfest and Nationaltheater 48
- Ludwig I and Munich Classicism 51
- Maximilian II: Neo-Gothic and the "Luminaries of the North" 58
- Into the Industrial Age 60
- The New City Hall 62
- Munich Makes Musical History 63
- Munich Painters 64
- The Muse of Schwabing 67
- Art Nouveau in Munich 69
- "The Decline of the West" 71

The Republican Age

- The End of the Monarchy 72

- The March to the Feldherrnhalle 73
- A German Museum for Technology 74
- En Route to the Metropolitan Village 75
- Harbingers of Fire 76
- "Degenerate Art" 77
- "Capital of the Nazi Movement" 78
- The Secret Capital of Germany 81

Views of the City

The Old City Centre

- Town Models 88

The Princely City

- The Residenz 136
- Nymphenburg 164
- Schleissheim 188

City of the Muses:

Galleries and Museums

- The Royal Collections: the Pinakotheks and the Glyptothek 206
- Painter-Princes and "Der Blaue Reiter" 236

Royal City and State Capital

- The Modern Metropolis 248

Appendix

- Chronological Table of the History of Munich and Bavaria 320
- Genealogical Table of the House of Wittelsbach in Bavaria 331
- Plan of the City 332
- Bibliography 335
- Index 339
- Photographic Acknowledgements 347