

Contents

Foreword	7
Executive summary	10
1 Introduction	15
PART A: CONFRONTING THE CLIMATE CRISIS	21
2 Why climate change matters	21
Climate science	21
Climate change and the economy	25
A historical overview of climate politics and diplomacy	27
3 Key issues in climate politics	34
Denial, delay and doomism	34
Climate justice(s)	38
Regulation, markets and growth	47
Challenges of multilevel governance	58
The geopolitics of transition	60
Case study: Russia's war on Ukraine and energy and climate geopolitics	69
Geoengineering	75
4 The international community's climate goals	79
International climate law in context	80
UN Climate Convention	82
Kyoto Protocol	85
Paris Agreement	87
The mitigation goal	89
The adaptation goal	91
Finance flows and support	91

Social and human rights elements	92
Nationally determined contributions	94
Progressive implementation of international goals	95
PART B: POLICIES FOR CLIMATE PROGRESS	97
5 EU climate law and policy	97
Climate law and policy in the EU	97
Making the economy climate-friendly	102
Shifting finance flows	107
Transitioning to clean energy	110
Protecting communities from climate impacts and response measures	116
Making the climate transition inclusive	121
Greening trade and investment	124
Building strategic autonomy	129
Practising international solidarity	138
6 Towards a progressive and European climate transition	142
Progressive principles for strengthening climate policy	142
ANNEX	153
Key documents	153
Key institutional actors	155
Some key European figures in climate policy	157
Climate change and the EU timeline	160
Acronyms	165
Bibliography	167
Reviews	182
About the Author	185
Acknowledgments	186