

Contents

Introduction of the Editor	1
JOSEF BECKER
Power in Europe? Introductory Remarks	7
I. The Decision Makers in Foreign Affairs	17
ANTHONY ADAMTHWAITE
Overstretched and Overstrung: Eden, the Foreign Office and the Making of Policy	19
GEOFFREY WARNER
Aspects of the Suez Crisis	43
RENÉ GIRAULT
Decision Makers, Decisions and French Power	66
MANFRED OVERESCH
The Alternative Prospect: The Plan of a Neutralized United Germany	84
BRUNELLO VIGEZZI
Italy and the Problems of "Power Politics" – From the EDC Failure to the Suez Crisis	101
HANS-PETER SCHWARZ
Introductory Remarks for the Debate	130
II. The Economic Area	137
GEORGE C. PEDEN
Economic Aspects of British Perceptions of Power	139
ROBERT FRANK
The French Alternative: Economic Power through the Empire or through Europe?	160

WERNER BÜHRER/HANS-JÜRGEN SCHRÖDER Germany's Economic Revival in the 1950s. The Foreign Policy Perspective	174
VERA ZAMAGNI The Italian "Economic Miracle" Revisited: New Markets and American Technology	197
GEORGE C. PEDEN Introductory Remarks for the Debate	227
III. The Military Problems	233
EDWARD SPIERS British Perceptions of Military Problems in the Fifties	235
JEAN DELMAS Military Power in France 1954–1958	238
MANFRED MESSERSCHMIDT Problems of West Germany Security Policy 1956–1959	254
ANTONIO VARSORI Italy between Atlantic Alliance and EDC, 1948–1955	260
JEAN DELMAS Introductory Remarks to the Debate	300
IV. The Political Parties	307
MARTIN CEADEL British Parties and the European Situation 1950–1957	309
SERGE BERSTEIN The Perception of French Power by the Political Forces	333
WINFRIED BECKER Views of the Foreign Policy Situation Among the CDU Leadership, 1945–1957	351
DIETRICH STARITZ Western European and Atlantic Integration 1954–1958 as seen by the German Communists	372

SIMONA COLARIZI
The Italian Political Parties and Foreign Policy in the 1950s: DC, PSI, PCI, MSI	384
SEVERINO GALANTE
The International Policies of the Italian Christian Democratic and Communist Parties in the Fifties	407
HARTMUT ULLRICH
Introductory Remarks to the Debate	435
V. Public Opinion and the Cultural Sector	443
PHILIP M. TAYLOR
Power, Propaganda and Public Opinion: The British Information Services and the Cold War, 1945 – 1957	445
PIERRE MILZA
Public Opinion and Perception of Power in France at the End of the Fourth Republic (1954 – 1958)	462
KLAUS-JÜRGEN MÜLLER
Power and Awareness of Power in the Federal Republic of Germany 1953 – 1956/57: Perception of the Power Problem in Public Opinion	477
ROMAIN H. RAINERO
Italian Public Opinion and European Politics (1950 – 1956)	491
VI. Europe and the Origins of the EEC (from the Crisis of EDC to the Treaties of Rome through the Suez Crisis)	497
ROGER BULLEN †
Britain and Europe, 1950 – 1957	499
PIERRE GUILLEN
Europe as a Cure of French Impotence? The Guy Mollet Government and the Negotiation of the Treaties of Rome	505
FRANZ KNIPPING
“Firm with the West!” Elements of the International Orientation of West Germany in the Mid-1950s	517

ENNIO DI NOLFO
“Power Politics”: The Italian Pattern (1951 – 1957)	530
 RAYMOND POIDEVIN
Introductory Remarks to the Debate	546
 General Conclusion	551
RENÉ GIRAULT
On the Power of Old and New Europe	553
 Abbreviations	563
 The Authors	567
 Other Publications	575
 Index of Names	587