
Contents

Consumer Policy from Below: An Introduction.	1
Kai-Uwe Hellmann und Ansgar Klein
The Informed Consumer as an Obsolete Model?
The Mature (‘Mündige’) Consumer: A Misunderstood Ideal?	19
Christoph Strünck
Mature (‘Mündige’) Consumers—A Practice-Theoretical Revision	29
Thomas Cannaday
Political Consumption and Political Participation
Protest—Participation—Propaganda: What is Political about Political Consumption?.....	65
Karsten Fischer
Consumer Participation through Digital Valuation Practices? On the Sociology of the Infrastructures of Consumer Participation	81
Jörn Lamla
Responsibility and Responsibilities
Political Science Perspectives on Consumer Responsibility	97
Kathrin Loer
Responsibility Design. Consuming as Moral Action	123
Wolfgang Ullrich

Consumer Morality—Bright and Dark at the Same Time

Between Self-Change and Social Change: On the Present of the 1970s Alternative Consumption Discourse	135
Marianne Heinze

Revolt Against Morality—Unintended Feedback Effects of Citizens . . .	153
Daniel Kofahl

Dark Sides of Consumption: How Consumers Trick and Deceive	175
Günther Rosenberger

Actors, Activists, Initiatives, Organizations, Associations

The Consumer Policy Landscape in Austria—With a Special Focus on Grassroots Movements	213
Nina Birkner-Tröger

Self-organisation of Consumers as a Sociological Utopia of Consumption	243
Heiko Steffens

The Critical and Mature Consumer	253
Georg Abel

BUND Berlin e. V.'s Commitment to Strengthening the Initiative Scene	271
Daniel Affelt

Understanding Commitment to Sustainable Consumption. Insights from the Work of the Consumer Association of NRW with Local Initiatives	277
Jonas Grauel

Rethinking Consumption—To Make Things Better	303
Stefan Schridde

The 'Humboldt Consumer Law Clinic' as an Example of Civil Society Strengthening of Consumer Rights	315
Reinhard Singer, Kristina Schimpf und Kathrin Steinbach

An Afterword	339
-------------------------------	------------

References	345
-----------------------------	------------