3.4.2.3	Leadership Ambidexterity	69
3.4.3	Levels of Analysis in Ambidexterity Research	72
3.4.3.1	Organization Level Research	72
3.4.3.2	Individual Ambidexterity Research	73
3.4.3.3	Team Level and Top Management Team Research on Ambidexterity	76
3.5	The Collaborative Context: Intermediate Summary	79

4 Theoretical Foundations: The Decision-Making Context	85
4.1 Naturalistic Decision-Making	85
4.1.1 Naturalistic Decision-Making: Definition and Conceptual Origins	85
4.1.2 Expertise, Expert Intuition and Expert Decision-Making	88
4.1.3 Decision-Making Models in Naturalistic Decision-Making	93
4.2 Conceptual Demarcation	100
4.2.1 The Decisive Role of the Decision-Making Context	100
4.2.2 Bounded Rationality	101
4.2.3 Heuristics and Biases	103
4.2.4 Fast and Frugal Heuristics	105
4.2.5 Cognitive Continuum Theory	108
4.2.6 Aeronautical Decision-Making and FOR-DEC	109
4.3 Team Macro cognition: From Naturalistic Origins to Contemporary Conceptualizations	110
4.3.1 Conceptual Evolution: Transitioning from NDM to Macro cognition	110
4.3.2 Model Representations of Team Macro cognition	115
4.4 Dimensions of Team Macro cognition	124
4.4.1 Knowledge-Building Processes	124
4.4.2 Emergent States of Team Knowledge	127
4.4.3 Problem-Solving Outcomes, Evaluation and Revision	130
4.5 Assessing Team Cognition in Naturalistic Settings: Cognitive Task Analysis	131
4.5.1 Critical Decision Method and Team Cognitive Task Analysis	133
4.5.2 (Team) Knowledge Audit	136
4.5.3 Applied Cognitive Task Analysis	137
4.5.4 Critical Decision Audit: a blended Approach	140
4.6 Ambidexterity and Team Macro cognition	141
4.7 Taking Stock of Naturalistic Decision-Making and Team Macro cognition	145
4.7.1 Conceptual Criticism	145
4.7.2 Conceptual Developments	150
4.8 Intermediate Summary: Naturalistic Decision-Making and Team Macro cognition	152

5	Conceptualized Research Model and Conceptual Connections	157
5.1	Research Model for Team Macrocognition	157
5.2	Explanatory Model of Conceptual Connections	159
6	Research Approach and Empirical Research Setting	163
6.1	Research Design and Strategy	163
6.1.1	Research Approach	163
6.1.2	Qualitative Content Analysis	166
6.1.3	Cognitive Task Analysis	170
6.1.4	Ethnographic Aspects: Field Access and Qualification of the Researcher	172
6.2	Introduction of the Research Subject	173
6.2.1	Organizational Context	173
6.2.2	Situational Decision-Making Context	174
6.2.3	Sampling Unit and Research Participants	174
6.2.4	Participant Preparation for the Task	179
6.3	Data Collection	179
6.3.1	Interview Settings and Issues in Data Collection	179
6.3.2	Knowledge Elicitation: Critical Decision Audit	180
6.4	Data Analysis	182
6.5	Critical Evaluation of the Methodology	184
7	Empirical Findings and Analysis	191
7.1	Organizational Mindfulness and Aspects of High Reliability identified in Team Macrocognition	192
7.1.1	Preoccupation with Failure	192
7.1.2	Reluctance to Simplify	194
7.1.3	Sensitivity to Operations	198
7.1.4	Commitment to Resilience	201
7.1.5	Deference to Expertise	204
7.1.6	Comfort with Uncertainty	206
7.2	Contextual Influences of the Naturalistic Decision-Making Environment	208
7.2.1	Ill-Structured Problems	208
7.2.2	Uncertain and Dynamic Environment	209
7.2.3	Shifting, Ill-Defined and Competing Goals	210
7.2.4	Action- and Feedback Loops	211
7.2.5	Time Stress	211
7.2.6	High-Stakes	213
7.2.7	Multiple Players	213

7.2.8	Influence of Organizational Goals and Norms	214
7.3	Analysis of Team Macrocognition	215
7.3.1	Individual Knowledge Building	215
7.3.1.1	Individual Information Gathering, -Synthesis and Knowledge Object Development	216
7.3.1.2	Ambidextrous Knowledge Seeking Behaviors	219
7.3.2	Team Knowledge Building	221
7.3.2.1	Team Information Exchange and Team Knowledge Sharing	221
7.3.2.2	Team Solution Option Generation	224
7.3.2.3	Negotiation of Alternatives	227
7.3.2.4	Team Process and Plan Regulation	230
7.3.2.5	Team Consideration of Ambidextrous Solution Alternatives	232
7.3.3	Internalized Team Knowledge	236
7.3.3.1	Team Knowledge Similarity	236
7.3.3.2	Transactive Memory Systems and Team Knowledge Resources	237
7.3.3.2.1	TMS Specialization: Differentiated Knowledge and Expertise Among TMT Members	237
7.3.3.2.2	TMS Coordination: Effectiveness of Knowledge Processing Among TMT Members	244
7.3.3.2.3	TMS Credibility: Reliability of TMT Members' Expertise	249
7.3.3.3	Individual and Shared Situation Awareness	254
7.3.3.4	Ambidexterity Orientation in Internalized Team Knowledge	256
7.3.4	Externalized Team Knowledge	257
7.3.4.1	Externalized Cue-Strategy Associations	258
7.3.4.2	Pattern Recognition and Trend Analysis	260
7.3.4.3	Uncertainty Resolution	264
7.3.4.4	Knowledge Externalizations and Communication Artifacts	265

7.3.4.5	Ambidexterity Orientation in Externalized Team Knowledge	269
7.3.5	Team Problem-Solving Outcomes	270
7.3.5.1	Emphases Among Macroognitive Dimensions	270
7.3.5.2	Quality of Plan	273
7.3.5.3	Efficiency of Plan and Planning Process	276
7.3.6	Non-Macroognitive Aspects of Team Cognition in Decision-Making: Trust and Psychological Safety ...	279
7.4	Diversity, Teamwork Aspects and Macroognition	283
7.4.1	Taking Inventory of the EC's Diversity Attributes	285
7.4.2	Subgroup Comparison: Differences in Manifestations of HRO Mindfulness Dimensions	289
7.4.3	Subgroup Comparison: Perceptions of NDM Influences	291
7.4.4	Diversity in Skills and Knowledge: Team Macroognition and TMS	293
7.4.4.1	Subgroup Comparison: Individual Knowledge Building	295
7.4.4.2	Subgroup Comparison: Team Knowledge Building	297
7.4.4.3	Subgroup Comparison: Internalized Team Knowledge	299
7.4.4.4	Subgroup Comparison: Externalized Team Knowledge	303
7.4.4.5	Subgroup Comparison: Team Problem-Solving Outcomes	308
7.5	Revisited Explanatory Model and Conceptual Connections	310
7.6	Summary of Empirical Findings	321
7.7	Essential Findings from a Management Perspective	330
8	Summary and Discussion of Key Findings	335
8.1	Summary of Key Results	335
8.2	Discussion of Results	341
8.3	Discussion of Research Approach and Methodology	348
