

Contents

Acknowledgements	xiii
Abbreviations for archives	xvii
Introduction	I
CHAPTER 1
Hungary and the Jewish people: A story of love, hate and ambivalence	5
The early history	5
The 'golden' age of coexistence and exchange	9
A humiliated nation seeks a scapegoat	14
Consolidation	24
Economic crisis and social unrest	25
Nazism gains ground	28
CHAPTER 2
A pact with the devil	33
Entry into the Second World War	36
Prelude to the Holocaust	42
The disaster at the Don	44
Attempts to escape from the war	48
A double game	55
CHAPTER 3
1944: The year of darkness	61
The occupation	61
The deportations from the countryside	65
Between confusion and indifference	74

CHAPTER 4

Humanity slowly awakens	79
The outside world begins to react	79
Resistance in Hungary begins to gain ground	83
The MFM	85
The Koszorús action	91

CHAPTER 5

Raoul Wallenberg before his posting to Hungary in 1944	101
From young boy to citizen of the world	101
A man of trade, a Home Guard officer	104

CHAPTER 6

The first period in Hungary	113
Building a network	113
Intrigues in Berlin and Budapest	120
The humanitarian organisation	123

CHAPTER 7

Wallenberg's first actions	133
----------------------------	-----

CHAPTER 8

Drama in August	139
-----------------	-----

CHAPTER 9

The situation temporarily stabilises	151
Shadow play	152
The negotiations with Kurt Becher	155

CHAPTER 10

The planned uprising against the Germans	163
The defection agency	169

The Hungarian Front	171
The Communists	175
Jewish groups	176
CHAPTER 11
Taurus and the Swedish courier	179
CHAPTER 12
The two camps plan for a showdown	191
Wallenberg's secret and mysterious contacts	194
The intrigues of the Germans and the Arrow Cross Party	197
Boiling point	200
CHAPTER 13
Operation Mickey Mouse and Panzerfaust	205
CHAPTER 14
What did Wallenberg do during the coup?	223
CHAPTER 15
An enemy with many faces	229
The Arrow Cross	229
The gendarmerie	238
The police	241
The Germans	242
CHAPTER 16
The persecution resumes	249
The death marches	250

CHAPTER 17

The neutral envoys	259
The Langlets and the Swedish Red Cross	259
Friedrich Born and the International Red Cross	261
Angelo Rotta and the Vatican nunciature	264
Carl Lutz and Switzerland	265
Giorgio/Jorge Perlasca and Spain	268

CHAPTER 18

The Schützling Protocol Group	297
-------------------------------	-----

CHAPTER 19

The typewriter repairman and the Arrow Cross	313
--	-----

CHAPTER 20

The resistance rises again	321
----------------------------	-----

CHAPTER 21

KISKA – The secret army	327
-------------------------	-----

CHAPTER 22

Zugló and Angyalföld	337
XIV KISKA, the nuns and László Ocskay	337
XIII KISKA	342

CHAPTER 23

Wallenberg and the resistance	347
Contacts with XIV and XIII KISKA	353
Two testimonies	357

CHAPTER 24

The Accountability Unit strikes	363
---------------------------------	-----

CHAPTER 25

The action at Józsefváros railway station	371
---	-----

CHAPTER 26

The siege begins	379
------------------	-----

CHAPTER 27

The two ghettos	387
The international ghetto	388
The main ghetto and its two lions	389

CHAPTER 28

The rescuers work day and night	393
---------------------------------	-----

CHAPTER 29

Total terror	403
--------------	-----

CHAPTER 30

The bloody Christmas	411
The fight for the abducted children	413

CHAPTER 31

The battle for the protected buildings	427
--	-----

CHAPTER 32

The Nazi serpent's final bite	439
-------------------------------	-----

CHAPTER 33

The massacre in the main ghetto – myth or truth?	445
--	-----

CHAPTER 34

Epilogue: A story without a happy ending 451

Notes 459

Postscriptum to the 2024 edition 487

Bibliography 491

Index 495