

Table of Contents

Introduction: Studying Everyday Heroism in Western Societies Simon Wendt	7
“Our Heroes of To-day”: The Royal Humane Society and the Creation of Heroes in Victorian Britain Craig Barclay	25
Everyday Heroism for the Victorian Industrial Classes: The British Workman and The British Workwoman , 1855–1880 Christiane Hadamitzky and Barbara Korte	53
Everyday Heroism in Britain, 1850–1939 John Price	79
Volunteers and Professionals: Everyday Heroism and the Fire Service in Nineteenth-Century America Wolfgang Hochbruck	109
Narratives of Feminine Heroism: Gender Values and Memory in the American Press in the Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries Janice Hume	139
Heroic Ordinariness after Cavell and Capra: Hollywood Cinema and Everyday Heroism in the Interwar Period and World War II Matthias Grottkopp	167
Everyday Socialist Heroes and Hegemonic Masculinity in the German Democratic Republic, 1949–1989 Sylka Scholz	185

Everyday Heroes in Germany: Perspectives from Cultural Anthropology Silke Meyer	217
After Watergate and Vietnam: Politics, Community, and the Ordinary American Hero, 1975–2015 William Graebner	235
“It Must Have Been Cold There In My Shadow”: Everyday Heroism in Superhero Narratives Michael Goodrum	249
After the Working-Class Hero: Popular Music and Everyday Heroism in the United States in the Twenty-First Century Martin Lütke	271
Notes on Contributors	291