

Contents

Linguistification of the Sacred: In Place of a Preface	vii
--	-----

I The Lifeworld as a Space of Reasons

1 From Worldviews to the Lifeworld	3
2 The Lifeworld as a Space of Symbolically Embodied Reasons	28
3 A Hypothesis concerning the Evolutionary Meaning of Rites	43

II Postmetaphysical Thinking

4 The New Philosophical Interest in Religion: A Conversation with Eduardo Mendieta	59
5 Religion and Postmetaphysical Thinking: A Reply	77
6 A Symposium on Faith and Knowledge: Reply to Objections, Response to Suggestions	122

III Politics and Religion

7 'The Political': The Rational Meaning of a Questionable Inheritance of Political Theology	163
8 The 'Good Life' – a 'Detestable Phrase': The Significance of the Young Rawls's Religious Ethics for His Political Theory	175

9	Rawls's Political Liberalism: Reply to the Resumption of a Discussion	189
10	Religion in the Public Sphere of 'Post-Secular' Society	210
	Sources of the Texts	225
	Notes	227
	Index	263