

Contents

Preface	7
 From the Beginnings to the Baroque
From a Trading Post to the Capital of Prussia:
The Development of Berlin until 1790	8
Berlin Palace	13
In the Heart of Friedrichstadt – the Gendarmenmarkt	17
Andreas Schlüter	20
The State Concept of Frederick the Great
in Bricks and Mortar – the Forum Fridericianum	29
 Neo-Classicism
From Prussian Residence to Capital of the German Empire 1790–1871	34
Karl Friedrich Schinkel	38
Acropolis of the Arts: Museum Island	43
James Hobrecht	54
 Historicism
From Capital of the Empire to European Metropolis 1871–1918	64
The Berlin Tenement House	77
Ludwig Hoffmann	90
Cathedrals of Work	103
 Early Modern Period
Weimar Republic, the Metropolis of Berlin: The 1920s	112
Martin Wagner	116
Housing Development: Hopes for a New Social Beginning	123
Departure from Historical Continuity	131
 National Socialism
Power over the Masses. Construction in the National Socialist Era 1933–1945	138
Albert Speer	140
The Olympic Games in Berlin in 1936	147

Recovery

Continuing Chaos – the Post-War Period 1945–1961	162
Hans Scharoun	172
Competing Systems	181

International Style

Capital City and Waiting Status – The Divided City 1961–1979	184
The Socialist City Centre	191
Hermann Henselmann	202

Post-Modern Period

If the New Becomes Old, then the Old is Renewed: 1979–1989	214
The International Building Exhibition 1984/87	221
Joseph Paul Kleihues	222
Praise for the Slab: Industrial Building in East Berlin	233

The New Berlin

The New City of Berlin: Construction Work in the 1990s	236
Hans Stimmann	252
Potsdamer Platz: City Model of the Future?	259
New Suburbs: Apartments for citizens who aren't coming after all	273
New Old Capital: Novelty on the one hand, continuity on the other	283
Berlin's Inner-City Plan: Strategy for the Coming Decades	300
Conservation and Expansion of Neues Museum and Museumsinsel Master Plan	319
Sustainability through Wood Construction	359

Appendix

Object Index	376
Street Index	396
Architect Index	402
Picture Credits	412
Maps	414