

Praise For The First Edition	xi
Foreword	xiii
by Ana L. Cruz
Foreword to the First Edition	xvii
by Donaldo Macedo
Preface
Past the Centennial Year: Recollection and Gratitude	xxiii
by Shirley R. Steinberg
Introduction	1
Historical Context within a Land of Contrasts	7

Part I The Birth of a Remarkable Life (1921–1942)

Chapter 1. 724 Estrada do Encanamento	17
Chapter 2. Early School Years	23
Chapter 3. The Move to Jaboatão	27
Chapter 4. A Turning Point	31
Chapter 5. The Move Back to Recife, First Teaching Job, and Propelling Toward Life's Work	35

Part II The Permanent Move to Education (1943–1956)

Chapter 6. Marriage, Children, and “You’re an Educator”	41
Chapter 7. A Momentous Employment Invitation	43
Chapter 8. A Watershed Moment	49
Chapter 9. Superintendent of the Division of Education and Culture and Lessons Learned	53

Part III Literacy Reform Campaign Movements and Forced into Exile (1956–1964)

Chapter 10. Completing Doctoral Work and an Adult Education Focus	59
---	----

Chapter 11. The Emergence of Cultural Circles	63
Chapter 12. Overview of a Five Phase Literacy Process	69
Chapter 13. A Remarkable Event in Angicos	73
Chapter 14. Triggering Political Events, Jail Time, and the only Option of Exile	77

Part IV Life in Exile (1964–1980)

Chapter 15. A Short Stay in Bolivia and onto Chile	85
Chapter 16. Cultural Circles in a Chilean Setting	87
Chapter 17. Early Publications and Departing Chile	91
Chapter 18. A Stop at Harvard as a Path to Geneva	95
Chapter 19. Headquartered at the World Council of Churches	97
Chapter 20. Historical Overview of Guinea–Bissau and the Need for a Literacy Campaign	101
Chapter 21. The Guinea–Bissau Project and Beyond	105
Chapter 22. Living a Borrowed Life and Lessons Learned	109

Part V The Return Home and Post-Exile Life and Work (1980–1997)

Chapter 23. A Period of Re-acclimation	117
Chapter 24. A Sampling of Publications during the 1980s (Including Early Works About Paulo Freire)	121
Chapter 25. The Formation of a New Political Party and Accepting a Secretary of Education Post	125
Chapter 26. A Goal-focused Sense of Urgency as Secretary of Education	129
Chapter 27. Traversing Through a Dark Night	135
Chapter 28. Life Anew and More Publications	139

Part VI Personality, Pastimes, and Last Days

Chapter 29. A Glimpse into Paulo's "Domestic" Life	145
Chapter 30. A Level of Regrets	151

Part VII Influences: An Overview

Chapter 31. Drinking from Many Wells	157
Chapter 32. Foundationally Grounded in a Faith Position Lens	161
Chapter 33. Existentialism, Phenomenology, Personalism, Humanism, Liberalism, and Marxism	165
Chapter 34. A Process Toward Coming Out of the Shadows	173

Part VIII Freirean Themes

Chapter 35. Tramp of the Obvious	181
Chapter 36. Authenticity and Dialogue	183
Chapter 37. Conscientização and Praxis	187
Chapter 38. Banking Approach v. Problem-posing Approach	193
Chapter 39. Love, Humility, and Hope	199

Part IX Critical Pedagogy, Liberation Theology, and Legacy

Chapter 40. “Father” of Critical Pedagogy	205
Chapter 41. One of the Founders of Liberation Theology	209
Chapter 42. The Man from Recife and Why He Matters	219
Afterword A Perspective from Brazil by Nelio Bizzo	229
Afterword for the First Edition Paulo Freire: Defending His Heritage to Remake the Earth by Peter McLaren	233
Acknowledgments	247
Appendix A. Illustrative Literacy Scenes	249
Appendix B. Key Word List	263
Appendix C. The Process of Writing Pedagogy of the Oppressed	265
Appendix D. Voices: Leonardo Boff, Cynthia Brown, Fernando Cardenal, and Jonathan Kozol	271
Appendix E. An Interview with Ana Maria (Nita) Araújo Freire	277

Appendix F. A Brief Overview of Critical Theory	291
Appendix G. Paulo Freire, Black Theology of Liberation, and Liberation Theology: A Conversation with James H. Cone	293
Notes	309
References	341
Index	355