

Acknowledgements — VII

Introduction — 1

- Agency, Intimacy and the Holocaust? — 3
- Gender, Sexuality and Emotions in the Holocaust — 7
- Sources and Methodology — 15
- Periodisation and Chapter Overview — 19
- A Note on Names and Language — 22

I Behind the Walls: Humiliation and Comfort — 23

- The Ghettos: Jewish Men Maneuvering Impossible Situations — 24
- (Sexual) Humiliation, Honour and Suicide — 28
- Sexuality, Family Life and Fatherhood — 38

II Behind the Barbed Wire: From Man to Inmate — 55

- The Concentration Camps: Homosocial Power Relations and Transformation of Masculinity — 56
- Piepel-Relations and Male-Male Rape — 64
- Intimate Relations: Barter, Love, Friendship and Same-Sex Relations — 72

III In the Woods: Jewish Resistance, Military Masculinity and Intimacy — 89

- Jewish Resistance, Gender Relations and Antisemitism — 90
- Military Masculinity, Countering the Image of Jewish Passivity and Intimate Killings — 97
- Intimate Relations, Barter and Intimate Violence — 105

IV Becoming Man Again: Liberation, Rehabilitation and Remasculinisation in Displaced Persons' Camps — 121

- “Neither Fully Alive nor Fully Dead”: The Aftermath of the Holocaust — 122
- From Survivors to Men: Remasculinisation through Work, Zionism and Sports — 130
- Intimate Relations: Sexuality and Jewish Family Life — 139

Conclusion — 156

Archives — 163

Bibliography — 165

Index — 177