

Contents

Introduction.....	1
Chapter One: Survey and Assessment of Scholarship	9
Introduction	9
Form-Critical HT Analysis.....	11
Research of HT Origins: Early Theories	14
Catechism Theories: The HT as Christian
Lehrstück	14
Dibelius-Weidinger: Adoption of the Hellenistic Ethic	17
Ernst Lohmeyer: Jewish Source Theory	20
K.H. Rengstorf: The HT and the Social Context οἶκος.....	22
David Schroeder: The Debate Concerning HT Form	26
James Crouch: From HT Form to Sociological Concerns.....	32
Economic Theories and the HT Form	38
David Balch: Attention to Broad Literary Context.....	38
Klaus Thraede: Economic Theory in Colossians, Ephesians
and 1 Peter	41
Dieter Lührmann: An Integrated Sociological Approach.....	44
Beyond Economic Theory.....	48
Franz Laub: A Radically Sociological Approach.....	48
Klaus Berger: Gnomie Tradition and HT Origins	52
Hermann von Lips: The HT as Christian Parenetic Topos....	55
Conclusion.....	58
Chapter Two: The Colossian Haustafel in Theological Context	61
Introduction.....	61
The Christ of Colossians: Universal Dominion	63
Christ's Dominion in the Believer: The Divine-
Human Axis.....	65
Implications of the Divine-Human Axis	69
Colossians 3:4–4:6: Life in Light of the Coming Lord	74
The Colossian Haustafel : Observations	76
The Theme of Lordship and the HT	76
The Aural-Communal Aspect of the HT Commands	79
Addressing the Subordinate Member	81
Reciprocity and Responsibility.....	84
Analysis of the Expanded Instruction: Slave and Master	85
The Slave in Christ's Service: Analysis of Col. 3:22–24	90

Justice before Christ: The Transition.....	98
Earthly Masters and The Lord in Heaven.....	101
Conclusion	103
 Chapter Three: The Relationship of Colossians and Ephesians.....	107
Introduction.....	107
The Current Discussion of Dependence	109
John Muddiman	110
Ernest Best.....	118
HT Comparison.....	125
Exegesis: The Immediate HT Context.....	130
The Ephesian HT: Transformation	137
The First Relational Pair: Husband and Wife.....	141
The Second Relational Pair: Parents and Children.....	149
The Third Relational Pair: Masters and Slaves	151
Conclusion	154
 Chapter Four: The Ephesian Haustafel in Theological Context	157
Introduction.....	157
The Ephesian Redaction.....	158
Theological Features of the Ephesian Redaction.....	165
Universal Ecclesiastical Perspective	166
The OT and the Ephesian Redaction	171
Christ and the Mediation of Love.....	176
Christ as the Exemplar of Love	179
Summary	182
The Theology of the Ephesian HT Admonitions.....	182
The Parent-Child Relationship	183
The Master-Slave Relationship	186
The Husband-Wife Relationship	188
Conclusion	200
 Chapter Five: A Comparison of Household Relations.....	203
Introduction.....	203
Ancient Treatments: Plato	205
Plato and Household Regulation	207
Plato and the NT Haustafeln	210
Conclusion.....	214
Ancient Treatments: Aristotle.....	215
Ontology and the Stratification of Relations.....	216
The Household Relations.....	217

Conclusion	225
Ancient Treatments: Pseudo-Aristotle	226
The Household in Psuedo-Aristotle	226
Conclusion	233
Contemporary Treatments: Philo	233
Philo and Household Relations	234
The Value of the Slave	240
The Sabbath Rest	242
Conclusion	244
Contemporary Treatments: Musonius Rufus	245
Household Relations	245
Marriage as Divinely Appointed Union	249
Conclusion	251
Contemporary Treatments: Plutarch	252
Husbands and Wives	253
Conclusion	259
Conclusion	260
Conclusion	263
Bibliography	267