

CONTENTS

List of figures	ix
Acknowledgements	xi
Introduction: A new kind of university	1
Chapter 1: Inclusion and exclusion in Cuban universities, 1728–2001	11
Chapter 2: The context for change in Granma Province	19
Chapter 3: Re-integrating youth	37
Chapter 4: Rebuilding communities	59
Chapter 5: ‘They saw us as family’	75
Chapter 6: Gender, social change and the university	105
Chapter 7: Communities of culture	131

Chapter 8: How should the local universities be judged?	163
Chapter 9: Local development and the future of Cuba's local university centres	187
Conclusion: Why being local matters	207
Afterword: Cuba's local university centres in the pandemic	219
Appendix A – List of interviews	225
Appendix B – Post-graduate destinations (Students from Granma who had completed their degrees at the time of interview)	235
Index	241