

Contents

Abbreviations — IX

Acknowledgements — XI

General Timeline — XIII

Dramatis Personae — XVII

Preface — XXV

Introduction — 1

Schools, Academies, Institutes — 2

Contextualising the “Classical” — 5

1 Classical Archaeology, Histories and Institutions — 9

Pilgrims, Antiquarians, Archaeologists — 13

The Institute for Archaeological Correspondence — 17

The Archaeological Society at Athens — 25

“Big Digs”: National Prestige, International Framework — 29

2 Great Powers, Deep Roots, 1846–1914 — 41

French Expeditions: Egypt, Syria, Morea and Macedonia — 42

Building Nations: The Franco-Prussian War — 49

Enter the Anglo-Saxons: America and Britain — 63

The Kavvadias Affair and the Italian School — 69

3 Northern Wind, Southern Sun, 1914–1935 — 77

War, Interwar: Legislation and Restrictions — 77

Northern Nostalgia for Southern Sunshine — 90

“New Opportunities”: Colonial Archaeology — 94

4 Academic Diplomacy at Risk, 1935–1939 — 107

The Big Buildup: National Tension — 107

The Archaeological Society: Celebrating a Centenary — 123

VIII — Contents

5 Sparks From the Anvil, 1939–1945 — 135

“Breaking Wide Open”: War — 135

Evacuation and Liberation — 151

6 Competition and Collaboration, 1945–1953 — 167

Post-War: AIAC and the Unione of institutes — 167

Reopenings, Restorations — 172

Old Networks, New Order — 190

Conclusions — 207

Epilogue — 217

Appendices — 223

Primary Sources and Interviews — 283

Bibliography — 291

Name Index — 317

Subject Index — 321