

Table of Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
1 Prologue: The New American Wilderness	1
Part One: Theoretical Dimensions of the Study
2 Autobiography of Post-9/11 America: The Framework	25
3 Social Cartography: A 'Line of Flight' for Curriculum Inquiry	55
4 'Nation-ness,' Nationalism, and Post-National Space	77
Part Two: Autobiography and Civic-Cultural Struggle
Introduction: Autobiography as Currere	103
5 A Post-9/11 American Autobiography: Part I	109
6 A Post-9/11 American Autobiography: Part II	131
7 Mapping Autobiographic Terrain: Cultures of Citizenship	151
Part Three: Ongoing Fragmented Dialogues
8 The Public Sphere: Risk, Uncertainty, and Techno-Culture	181
9 Contours of a Curriculum for the New American Wilderness	205
10 Epilogue	229
Notes	235
References	237
Index	249