

Contents

Preface.....	v
Brief contents.....	ix
Contents.....	xi
List of figures.....	xix
List of insets.....	xxv
 Introduction.....	 1
 Part I: The idea of strategic planning.....	 5
1 Strategies, strategic planning and success potentials.....	7
1.1 Strategies.....	7
1.2 Strategic planning.....	8
1.3 Building success potentials as the main purpose of strategic planning.....	9
2 The development of strategic planning.....	15
2.1 Four phases in the development of strategic planning.....	15
2.2 The role of strategic planning within strategic management.....	17
3 Assessment of strategies.....	23
3.1 Basic reflections on the assessment of strategies.....	23
3.2 Model for the assessment of strategies.....	24
 Part II: The process of strategic planning and the resulting documents.....	 31
4 Strategic documents as the result of strategic planning.....	33
4.1 Basic types of strategic document.....	33
4.2 Combinations of strategic documents for specific companies.....	37
5 The process of strategic planning.....	47
5.1 The need for a systematic process of strategic planning.....	47
5.2 Overview of the process of strategic planning.....	48
5.3 A brief note on the steps of the process.....	52
5.4 The strategic planning process of an electricity provider.....	56

5.5	Adapting the process of strategic planning.....	62
5.5.1	Reasons for adapting the process.....	62
5.5.2	Adapting the process to companies with reduced or greater complexity of structure.....	63
5.5.3	Adapting the process to deal with specific strategic questions.....	70
5.5.4	Final remarks.....	74
6	The strategic analysis and planning toolbox.....	75
6.1	Important tools of strategic analysis and planning.....	75
6.2	Allocating the tools to three fields of strategic analysis and to the steps in the strategic planning process.....	77
Part III: Strategy project planning and strategic analysis.....		83
7	Project planning.....	85
7.1	Why strategic planning should be seen as a project.....	85
7.2	Overview of the topics of project planning.....	86
7.3	Determining the project scope.....	86
7.4	Determining the objectives and boundary conditions of the project.....	89
7.5	Deciding whether to hire a consultant.....	90
7.6	Fixing the project organization.....	91
7.7	Fixing the process and the milestones of the project.....	94
7.8	Budgeting the project cost.....	97
8	Strategic analysis.....	99
8.1	The need for strategic analysis before strategies are developed.....	99
8.2	Content and conclusions of strategic analysis.....	100
8.3	Description of the applied methods.....	103
8.3.1	The choice of the methods applied in strategic analysis.....	103
8.3.2	Global environmental analysis.....	104
8.3.3	Description of the market system.....	105
8.3.4	The identification of success factors.....	106
8.3.5	Analysis of strengths and weaknesses.....	110
8.3.6	Stakeholder value analysis.....	114

8.4	The process of strategic analysis.....	116
8.4.1	Overview of the process of strategic analysis.....	116
8.4.2	Determining the preconditions for analysis.....	116
8.4.3	Carrying out the analysis.....	120
Part IV: Developing corporate strategies.....		123
9	Defining the strategic businesses.....	127
9.1	The strategic business as a three dimensional construct.....	127
9.2	Two types of strategic business.....	129
9.3	Constellations of strategic business fields and strategic business units.....	134
9.4	Defining strategic businesses.....	136
10	Assessing relevant industries with the help of competitive intensity models.....	145
10.1	Basic reflections on the assessment of competitive intensity.....	145
10.2	Analyzing industry structure with the Five Forces model.....	147
10.2.1	The basic concept underlying the Five Forces model.....	147
10.2.2	Areas of application.....	149
10.2.3	Procedure.....	150
10.3	Analyzing structures within industries with the Strategic Groups model.....	158
10.3.1	The basic concept underlying the Strategic Groups model.....	158
10.3.2	Areas of application.....	160
10.3.3	Procedure.....	160
11	Determining strategic objectives with the help of portfolio methods.....	165
11.1	The basis of portfolio methods.....	165
11.2	The market growth - market share portfolio.....	168
11.2.1	Portfolio matrix.....	168
11.2.2	Norm strategies.....	171
11.2.3	Recommendations for the portfolio as a whole.....	173

11.3	The industry attractiveness - competitive strength portfolio.....	175
11.3.1	The portfolio matrix.....	175
11.3.2	Norm strategies and recommendations for the portfolio as a whole.....	181
11.4	Portfolio analysis and planning process.....	182
11.4.1	Overview of the process.....	182
11.4.2	Preliminary methodological decisions.....	183
11.4.3	Description of the current portfolio.....	185
11.4.4	Predicting changes in real market growth or industry attractiveness.....	186
11.4.5	Analysis of the current portfolio.....	186
11.4.6	Planning the target portfolio and target market positions.....	186
11.4.7	Portfolio anyalsis and planning in a retail group.....	187
12	The corporate strategy development process.....	195
12.1	Overview of the process of developing a corporate strategy.....	195
12.2	Defining the strategic businesses.....	196
12.3	Describing the current corporate strategy and forecasting developments relevant to its assessment.....	198
12.4	Assessing the current strategy.....	204
12.5	Developing and assessing options for future corporate strategy.....	206
12.5.1	General reflections.....	206
12.5.2	Options concerning general intentions.....	208
12.5.3	Options for future activities.....	209
12.5.4	Options for procedures to construct, develop or disinvest businesses.....	213
12.5.5	Assessing the options and formulating the provisional corporate strategy.....	218
Part V: Developing business strategies.....		219
13	Generic business strategies.....	223
13.1	Basic reflections on the generic business strategies.....	223
13.2	Overview of the generic business strategies.....	223
13.3	The broad scope price strategy.....	228

13.4	The broad scope differentiation strategy.....	229
13.5	The niche focus strategies.....	230
13.5.1	A niche as a specific form of industry segment.....	230
13.5.2	The identification and assessment of niches with the help of industry segment analysis.....	232
13.5.3	Requirements for niches.....	237
13.6	Success conditions and risks of the generic business strategies.....	238
13.6.1	Success conditions of the generic business strategies.....	238
13.6.2	Risks of the generic business strategies.....	238
13.7	Transitional strategies and strategy alternation.....	243
13.7.1	Basic reflections on transitional strategies and strategy alternation.....	243
13.7.2	Transitional strategies.....	243
13.7.3	Strategy alternation.....	247
14	Specifying business strategies at the level of the market offer.....	251
14.1	Basic reflections on specifying business strategies at the level of the market offer.....	251
14.2	Specifying the market offer for a price strategy.....	251
14.2.1	Three areas of specification.....	251
14.2.2	Specifying the products and services.....	252
14.2.3	Specifying the mix of products and services.....	253
14.2.4	Specifying the pricing.....	255
14.3	Specifying the market offer for a differentiation strategy.....	256
14.3.1	The importance of a clear view of the served industry segment(s) and of the main competitors.....	256
14.3.2	Strategic positioning of the market offer.....	258
14.3.3	Ideas for the strategic positioning of the market offer.....	261
14.4	The identification of success factors and the analysis of strengths and weaknesses as a basis for specifying the market offer.....	267
14.5	Assessing options for competitive advantages in the market offer.....	270

15	Specifying business strategies at the level of resources.....	273
15.1	Basic reflections on specifying business strategies at the level of resources.....	273
15.2	Understanding resources.....	274
15.3	Valuable resources.....	276
15.4	Determining which resources to build or maintain.....	279
15.4.1	Overview of the process.....	279
15.4.2	Identifying the resources creating customer value.....	284
15.4.3	Determining which of the resources creating customer value are rare.....	290
15.4.4	Assessing sustainability of the resources creating customer value and found to be rare.....	291
16	The business strategy development process.....	293
16.1	Overview of the process of developing a business strategy.....	293
16.2	Describing and assessing the current business strategy.....	295
16.3	Determining and assessing options for the future generic business strategy and the target industry segment(s).....	296
16.4	Determining and assessing options for the future competitive advantages.....	297
16.4.1	The reason for identifying and assessing options.....	297
16.4.2	The network of success potentials as an approach to developing options for competitive advantages.....	298
16.4.3	Basic options for competitive advantages.....	304
16.4.4	Criteria for assessing options for competitive advantages.....	306
16.5	Developing the business strategy of a watch manufacturer.....	308
Part VI: Defining the implementation measures and assessing and approving the strategies.....		315
17	Defining the implementation measures.....	317
17.1	Basic reflections on implementing strategies.....	317

17.2	Types of strategic program.....	319
17.3	The process of defining the implementation measures.....	326
17.3.1	Overview of the process of defining the implementation measures.....	326
17.3.2	The steps in defining the implementation measures.....	326
18	Final assessment of strategies and strategy implementation measures.....	333
18.1	The need for a final assessment.....	333
18.2	The assessment criteria.....	333
18.2.1	Overview of the assessment criteria.....	333
18.2.2	Assessment of the total value of the strategies.....	333
18.2.3	Assessment with the remaining sets of criteria.....	339
18.3	Process of final assessment of strategies and strategy implementation measures.....	345
18.3.1	Overview of the process of final assessment of strategies and strategy implementation measures.....	345
18.3.2	The steps of final assessment of strategies and strategy implementation measures.....	345
19	Formulating and approving the strategic documents.....	351
19.1	Overview of the process of formulating and approving the strategic documents.....	351
19.2	Steps in formulating and approving the strategic documents.....	351
	Final remarks.....	357
	Glossary.....	359
	Index.....	369
	Bibliography.....	375

XV = 10 A

PPN: 254102190

Titel: Process- based strategic planning / Rudolf Grünig; Richard Kühn. - . - Berlin : Springer, 2006

ISBN: 3-540-32754-1Gb.EUR 53.45 (freier Pr.), sfr 88.50 (freier Pr.); 978-3-540-32754-7

Bibliographischer Datensatz im SWB-Verbund