

Contents

Acknowledgments — V

Michel Mallet, Maria Mayr, Kristin Rebien

Introduction: Socialism's Pasts and Futurities — 1

Michel Mallet, Maria Mayr, Kristin Rebien

Foreword: Marica Bodrožić's Poetic Reason in a Time of Cast-Iron Ideas — 19

Part I: Memories of Unrealized Futures in the Extended Wende Period

Anna Horakova

Ruins of the GDR: Multimedial Aesthetics and Visions of Collapse in Jörg Foth's Letztes aus der DaDaeR (1990) — 29

Christine Korte

"What Might Have Been": The GDR as Speculative Utopia at the Post-Wende Volksbühne — 51

Kristin Rebien

Return from the Future: Ingo Schulze's Open-Ended Wende Narratives — 75

Part II: Memories of Unrealized Futures in the New Millennium

Sebastian Mühl

Post-Socialist Historiographies: Visual Art in Eastern Germany 30 Years after the GDR — 101

Gabriele Mueller

From Hollywood to Hoyerswerda: Reclaiming East German (Film) History in Andreas Dresen's Gundermann — 125

Timothy Attanucci

Postsocialist Melancholy: The Highs and Lows of Terézia Mora's

Darius-Kopp Trilogy — 149

Part III: The Europeanization of Memories of the Future

Amy Leech

A Continent at Dusk or Dawn? The Multi-Author play Ein europäisches

Abendmahl* as Transcultural Reflection on European Identity — 175

Sanja Ivanov, Michel Mallet

Recollecting Fragments, Rethinking the Future: Saša Stanišić's

Assemblages of a Transnational Europe — 197

Maria Mayr

Challenging Collective Memory and Identities after Sarajevo: The

Imaginative Resource of Individual Memory in Marica Bodrožić's

Work — 231

About the Authors — 251

Index — 253