

Contents

1	Crises Shape Europe	1
2	From the Financial Crisis to the Euro Crisis	9
2.1	Europe's Share of Global Value Creation is Declining	10
2.2	Financial Crisis and Counterproductive Austerity	15
2.3	Failed Catch-up with the USA	18
2.4	Shifting Ground for the Eurozone	24
2.5	The Euro Crisis as a Test for Solidarity	28
3	Globalization and Migration in Interplay	37
3.1	Globalization and Migration Trilemmas	37
3.2	Waves of Globalization	39
3.2.1	A Look into History	40
3.2.2	On the Path to Deglobalization?	43
3.3	How do Massive Waves of Migration Occur?	44
3.3.1	Push and Pull Factors	45
3.3.2	Historical Migrations	47
3.4	Migrants, Refugees and Asylum Seekers	52
3.5	Religious Conflicts and Enlightenment	56
3.6	Migration Potential	60
3.7	Consequences of Migration	64
3.7.1	Substitutive or Complementary?	64
3.7.2	Countries of Origin: Knowledge Drain versus Remittances	66
3.7.3	Destination Countries: Increase in Production Capacities and Cultural Diversity	67

4	EU Migration Policy between Defense and Integration	71
4.1	Wave of Migration in the Intermediate Low?	71
4.2	Need for Reform in the Institutions of Migration Policy	76
4.2.1	Controversial UN Migration Pact	77
4.2.2	Geneva—Schengen—Dublin	78
4.3	Ambivalent EU Immigration Policy	82
4.3.1	Potential for Improvement in the Protection of EU External Borders	82
4.3.2	Cooperation with Countries of Origin and Transit	84
4.3.3	Does Sea Rescue Encourage Smuggling?	90
4.3.4	A European Response	93
4.4	Experiences with the Integration of Immigrants	99
5	Is there a “European Identity”?	105
5.1	How is the EU Perceived by Its Citizens?	105
5.2	The Incomplete Idea of Europe	108
5.2.1	Diversity of Identities	113
5.2.2	European Identity as an Illusion?	117
5.3	Deficiencies in the EU System	118
5.3.1	Unanimity in the Council as a Brake on Development	121
5.3.2	Little Harmony in Tax Matters	124
5.4	Competition between National and European Identity	125
5.5	Bipolar Situation of the EU	128
5.6	Not just a European Phenomenon	132
6	National Populism as Ideology and Method	137
6.1	Dimensions of Populism	137
6.2	Origins of Populist Movements	142
6.2.1	Cultural and Economic Factors	143
6.2.2	Methodological Similarity of Left and Right Populism	146
6.2.3	Manifestations of Right-Wing Populism	149
6.3	Populism and the Idea of Europe	152
6.4	Euroskeptics on the Rise?	156
6.5	Populism and Democracy	159
6.5.1	People or Law: Who Decides?	162
6.5.2	Liberal and Illiberal Democracy	163

7	The EU on the Path to Consolidation?	171
7.1	Prehistory and Realization of Brexit	171
7.2	From Entry to Exit Referendum	173
7.3	Withdrawal Agreement and Trade Agreement	179
7.4	Welfare Losses on Both Sides	182
8	COVID-19 Exposes many Weaknesses of the EU	189
8.1	Economic and Social Disruptions	189
8.2	Lack of Competencies at EU Level	192
8.3	Compromises on Measures	197
8.3.1	Pointless Haggling Over Thousandths	198
8.3.2	The Corona Crisis Saves the Medium-Term EU Budget	200
8.3.3	Supportive Measures of Monetary and Fiscal Policy	203
8.4	Refinancing of Corona Aid	207
8.4.1	Controversial Corona Bonds	207
8.4.2	Financial Solidarity is Nothing New in the EU	209
8.4.3	Thinking in Alternatives for Financial Aid	211
8.4.4	Financing Projects, Not States	212
8.5	Rule of Law on Trial	213
9	Europe in Ruins—New Identity Sought	219
9.1	Was the Ukraine Crisis Predictable?	219
9.1.1	Russia and Ukraine: A Historically Ambivalent Relationship	221
9.1.2	Two Perspectives on the Security Situation	227
9.1.3	How do Wars End?	228
9.2	Economic and Social Indicators	229
9.3	Political and Economic Turning Point	233
9.3.1	How many Displaced People are Returning?	236
9.3.2	Securing the Supply Chains	237
9.4	Gradual Increase of Western Sanctions	238
9.5	Reconstruction of Ukraine	242
9.5.1	How Resilient is Solidarity?	242
9.5.2	War Damages and Reconstruction Plans	243
10	Long-Term Crisis Climate Change	253
10.1	Dramatic Initial Situation	253
10.2	European Energy and Climate Policy	258

10.2.1	“Cap and Trade” Emissions Trading	259
10.2.2	European Green Deal with “Fit for 55” Package.....	260
10.2.3	Carbon Border Adjustment Mechanism (CBAM).....	263
10.2.4	Macroeconomic Consequences	266
10.3	Energy as an Economic Weapon	267
10.4	The Pitfalls of Electricity Pricing.....	271
10.5	Individual Measures and National Solo Efforts.....	275
10.6	Reform of the Internal Energy Market.....	278
11	What Future Does the EU Have?	285
11.1	Stagflation in the EU	286
11.2	Frictions on the Way to the Idea of Europe	289
11.3	“Differentiated Integration” as a Future Path?.....	291
11.4	Where are the Future External Borders of the EU?.....	299
11.4.1	Partnerships Beyond the EU Borders.....	302
11.4.2	Striving for Strategic Autonomy	306
11.4.3	Geopolitical Consequences	311
11.5	Summary Results and Theses	313
11.6	Outlook	319
	References	323