

Acknowledgments — V

Anna Koch, Stephan Stach

Introduction — 1

Elisabeth Gallas

The New York Black Book of 1946: A United Jewish Response to Nazi Crimes — 23

Boaz Cohen

Israeli Holocaust Memory and the Cold War — 51

Simon Perego

“The Communist Schism in Jewish Life”: Transnational Politics and Holocaust Commemorations among Parisian Jews during the Cold War — 73

Arkadi Zeltser, Yad Vashem

The Cold War and Holocaust Memorialization in Soviet Publications of the 1960s — 93

Anna Koch, Stephan Stach

Writing Holocaust History across the Iron Curtain: Alberto Nirenstein’s A Tower from the Enemy / Ricorda cosa ti ha fatto Amalek — 119

Nadège Ragaru

East-West Encounters at the Adolf-Heinz Beckerle Trial (1967–1968): How Holocaust Knowledge and Remembrance Went Global — 147

Vanessa Voisin

Accountability and the Cold War: The Eichmann Trial and Holocaust Representation in the Soviet Union — 173

Máté Zombory

Moral Universalism in the East: Anti-Fascist Humanism and the Memory of the Holocaust in Zoltán Fábri’s Film Late Season (1967) — 201

Irina Tcherneva

A Tableau of a Crime Taking Shape under the Viewer's Gaze: The Trajectories of Yosef Kuzkovski's The Last Way (1944–1970) — 223

Magdalena Saryusz-Wolska

The West German View of the Holocaust in the Occupied Soviet Union: The Case of Am grünen Strand der Spree, 1955–1960 — 255

Anna Pollmann

“The Second Death”: Günther Anders' Travels to Postwar Berlin — 275

Jonathan Kaplan

Fighting Nazis and Confronting the Past: The German Democratic Republic and the National Committee against Nazis in the United States — 293

Contributor Biographies — 315

Index — 319