

Table of Contents

Chapters at a glance	8
Introduction	11
1 Key terms and classifications in international and comparative adult education	16
1.1 Key definitions of adult education and related terms	17
1.2 Typologies of adult education provision	20
1.3 Examples of common types of adult education providers	23
1.4 Summary	27
2 Early ventures in international and comparative adult education	28
2.1 Three phases of development	29
2.2 Early contacts	30
2.3 The interwar years	31
2.4 The impact of World War II	32
2.5 The increasing role of research	34
2.6 Continuing institutionalisation from the 1970s	35
2.7 Summary	37
3 International and comparative adult education research	40
3.1 Review studies on directions in adult education research	41
3.2 Adult education studies published in international education journals	44
3.3 Book series on international and comparative adult education	46
3.4 Summary	49
4 Theoretical approaches to the study of international and comparative adult education	50
4.1 Theories discussed in relation to international and comparative education	51
4.2 Foundational theories of international and comparative adult education	52
4.3 Other theories relevant to international and comparative adult education	55
4.4 Summary	57
5 Methodological approaches to the study of international and comparative adult education	58
5.1 The argument for international and comparative research	59
5.2 Tools to select the focus of international and comparative research	60
5.3 Selection of units of comparison	62
5.4 Methodological approaches to international and comparative research	63
5.4.1 Case-oriented approaches	65
5.4.2 Variable-oriented approaches	66
5.5 Summary	67

6	The influence of international governmental organisations on research, policy and practice in international and comparative adult education	70
6.1	The role of international governmental organisations	71
6.2	European Commission	72
6.3	Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development	74
6.4	United Nation Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization	75
6.5	World Bank	78
6.6	International Labour Organisation	78
6.7	Summary	79
7	International Surveys	82
7.1	International large-scale survey studies	83
7.2	Surveys of the OECD	84
7.3	Surveys of the European Commission	86
7.4	Surveys of the UNESCO	89
7.5	Surveys of the World Bank	91
7.6	Summary	92
8	International and comparative adult education in the non-Western world	94
8.1	Adult education outside the Western 'comfort zone'	95
8.1.1	The question of language	96
8.1.2	Educating adults in the low-income nations	98
8.2	Adult education in Asia	99
8.2.1	Asian Tigers	99
8.2.2	China	101
8.3	The role of the Institute for International Cooperation DW International	102
8.4	Adult education research on and in the Global South	103
8.5	Summary	104
9	International and comparative adult education in a digital world	106
9.1	Digitisation in adult education	107
9.2	The importance of digital literacy	108
9.3	The question of internet access	110
9.4	The growth of open education	111
9.5	Digital resources for adult educators	115
9.6	Summary	116

10	The growth of adult education advocacy organisations across the world	118
10.1	International adult education advocacy	119
10.2	International Council for Adult Education	120
10.3	ICAE's regional member in Europe	121
10.4	ICAE's regional member in North America	122
10.5	ICAE's regional member in Latin America	123
10.6	ICAE's regional member in the Caribbean Region	124
10.7	ICAE's regional member in Africa	124
10.8	ICAE's regional member in the Arab Region	126
10.9	ICAE's regional member in Asia and the South Pacific	127
10.10	Summary	128
11	International exchanges and partnerships for adult education professionals and learners	130
11.1	Learning with and from each other	131
11.2	Erasmus+: opportunities for mobility and cooperation	132
11.3	DW International	136
11.4	MOJA – Adult Education Africa	138
11.5	Summary	139
	Literature	141
	Tables and figures	147
	Suggested solutions to questions and tasks	148
	Useful websites	161
	The authors	164