

Contents

|                                                                            |     |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Abstract .....                                                             | 5   |
| Acknowledgments.....                                                       | 11  |
| Introduction.....                                                          | 13  |
| General Overview of Scholarship .....                                      | 14  |
| General Overview of Primary Sources .....                                  | 19  |
| Further Considerations on the Primary Sources.....                         | 37  |
| Research Question .....                                                    | 38  |
| Scope of Study .....                                                       | 40  |
| Method and Definition of Terms .....                                       | 42  |
| 1. The Early Modern Period and Islam. Two Perspectives:                    |     |
| Theological and Cultural .....                                             | 45  |
| 1.1 John Calvin (1509–1564): A Theological Perspective .....               | 45  |
| 1.2 Calvin and Islam I .....                                               | 50  |
| 1.3 Calvin and Islam II: A Chronological Overview .....                    | 54  |
| 1.4 John Bale (1495–1563): A Cultural Perspective .....                    | 78  |
| 1.5 Bale’s Immediate Context .....                                         | 88  |
| 1.6 Bale’s Opera.....                                                      | 92  |
| 1.7 Calvin and Bale: Toward a Provisional Conclusion.....                  | 103 |
| 2. The Early Modern Period and Islam. Two Perspectives:                    |     |
| Catholic and Protestant.....                                               | 107 |
| 2.1 Portugal .....                                                         | 111 |
| 2.2 England .....                                                          | 121 |
| 2.3 Spain .....                                                            | 126 |
| 2.4 The Dutch Republic .....                                               | 134 |
| 2.5 Provisional Appraisal .....                                            | 140 |
| 3. Islam in the Dutch Early Modern Period. Text, Context, and Analysis ... | 143 |
| 3.1 Preliminary Observations.....                                          | 143 |
| 3.2 Why the Dutch Republic?.....                                           | 144 |
| 3.3 Dutch Republic in Context .....                                        | 149 |
| 3.4 Antonius Walaeus (1573–1639).....                                      | 170 |
| 3.5 Hugo Grotius (1583–1645) .....                                         | 174 |

|                               |                                                        |     |
|-------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| 3.6                           | Johannes Hoornbeeck (1617–1666) .....                  | 178 |
| 3.7                           | Johannes Coccejus (1603–1669) .....                    | 184 |
| 3.8                           | Gisbertus Voetius (1589–1676) .....                    | 193 |
| 3.9                           | Frédéric Spanheim, Jr. (1632–1701) .....               | 200 |
| 3.10                          | Petrus van Mastricht (1630–1706) .....                 | 203 |
| 3.11                          | Simon Oomius (1630–1706) .....                         | 212 |
| 3.12                          | Adrian Reland (1676–1718) .....                        | 219 |
| 3.13                          | Dutch Republic in Context: Further Considerations..... | 224 |
| 3.14                          | Provisional conclusion .....                           | 228 |
| Conclusion and Prospect ..... |                                                        | 231 |
|                               | Prospect .....                                         | 240 |
| Bibliography .....            |                                                        | 243 |
|                               | Primary Sources.....                                   | 243 |
|                               | Secondary Sources .....                                | 256 |
| Appendix A .....              |                                                        | 281 |
| Appendix B .....              |                                                        | 283 |
| Appendix C .....              |                                                        | 301 |
| Appendix D .....              |                                                        | 303 |
| Indices .....                 |                                                        | 313 |